WHAT THE ELECTORS WANT TO KNOW

Possibly the Hon Wm. Templeman or Mr. Duncan Ross will at their next public meeting held in Victoria explain to the electors why Sir Wilfrid has seen fit to depart from his views so strongly expressed at the imperial conferences. We reproduce the following editorial from the Vancouver News-Advertiser:

1911 Versus 1907.

The World asks:

Will the News-Advertiser please give us the exact terms of that alleged resolution asking the imperial conference to adopt Chamberlain's project of imperial preference, which Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke and voted for at one of the imperial conferences?

We do so with pleasure, though the official record is also available for the World. It may, however, be remembered that Sir Wilfrid spoke and voted for the resolution in two conferences, and that he was the mover in 1907. Here is the resolution carried by the conference in 1902 and reaffirmed in 1907 on the motion of the premier of Canada:

1. "That this conference recognizes that the principle of preferential trade between the United Kingdom and his majesty's dominions beyond the seas would stimulate and facilitate mutual commercial intercourse, and would, by promoting the development of the resources and industries of the several parts, strengthen the empire.

2. "That this conference recognizes that, in the present circumstances of the colonies, it is not practicable to adopt a general system of free trade as between the Mother Country and the British dominions beyond the seas.

3. "That with a view, however, to promoting the increase of trade within the empire, it is desirable that those colonies which have not yet adopted such a policy should, as far as their circumstances permit, give substantial preferential treatment to the products and manufactures of the United Kingdom.

4. "That the prime ministers of the colonies respectfully urge on his majesty's government the expediency of granting in the United Kingdom preferential treatment to the products and manufactures of the colonies, either by exemption from or reduction of duties now or hereafter imposed.

5. "That the prime ministers present at the conference undertake to submit to their respective governments, at the earliest opportunity, the principle of the resolution, and to request them to take such measures as may be necessary to give effect to it."

The following resolutions of the conference of 1902 were reaffirmed by the members of the conferences, with the exception of His Majesty's government, which was unable to give its assent, so far as the United Kingdom was concerned, to a reaffirmation of the resolution in so far as they imply that it is necessary or expedient to alter the fiscal system of the United Kingdom.

The resolutions were supported in speeches by Mr. Deakin, premier of Australia; Sir Joseph Ward, premier of New Zealand; Dr. Jamieson, premier of Cape Colony; Mr. Moor, premier of Natal; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada; General Botha, premier of the Transvaal, and Sir Robert Bond, premier of Newfoundland. Speakers in opposition were Premier Asquith, Chancellor Lloyd George and Mr. Winston Churchill.

It was on this occasion that Sir Wilfrid gave the conference this account of the attitude of Canada and its government:

"So far as legislation can influence trade we have done everything possible to push our trade toward the British people as against the American people . . . Not only have we done it by preference, by legislation, but we have forced our trade against the laws of nature and geography. . . . We have done everything possible by building canals and subsidizing railways to bring the trade from the west to the east and east to the west so as to bring trade into British channels. . . . It never was intended nor thought of at the time that this intermediate tariff could apply to the United States. There was a time when we wanted reciprocity with them, but our efforts and our offers were negatived and put aside, and we have said good-bye to that trade, and we have put all our hopes on British trade now.

This was Sir Wilfrid Laurier four years ago. He was then a protectionist of the Chamberlain school, an east and west trader, declaring that Canada had put aside all idea of American reciprocity. Today he is a north and south trader, a smasher of the imperial band, a foe of the Chamberlain school, a commercial ally of President Taft and a pilot leading the country to the parting of the ways.

What President Taft Said

We should like the same gentlemen, namely the Hon. W. Templeman or Mr. Duncan Ross, to explain to the satisfaction of the electors the words of President Taft which we reproduce:

"I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity, it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States, and to make her part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity, with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now, or give it up forever."

Sir Wilfrid's Views

And we seek, as do the electors, some enlightenment on why in 1898 Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"Canada today is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians, beginning with myself, would have given many things to obtain the American market, but thank heaven these days are past and over."

And why in 1899 Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"If we know the hearts and minds of our people at present, I think I am not making too wide a statement when I say that the general feeling in Canada today is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians would have given many things to obtain the American market, there was a time not long ago when the market of the great cities of the union was the only market we had for any of our products. But thank heaven these days are past and over now. We are not dependent upon the American market as we were at one time."

And why again in 1908, addressing the imperial conference, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside and negatived. We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes on the British trade."

Is It Good Canadianism?

Yesterday the Colonist had the following Associated Press telegram:

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—It was announced at the office of the Southern Pacific Company here today that 6,000 men would be dropped from the payrolls of the Pacific system of the railway before the end of September. Two thousand will be dropped this week.

The order to reduce forces was issued from the offices of Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and director of maintenance of operation of the Harriman system, and all seven of the Harriman roads are affected. It was explained that the retrenchment was made necessary by slack freight conditions, short crops in the northwest having tied up a large number of cars, 165,508 of which remain idle.

This illustrates the condition of things in the country with which the Liberal party wish Canada to unite commercially.

How will it strike the man who is dependent for his living upon what he can earn from day to day?

How will it strike the merchant who depends for his business upon the purchasing power of the workingmen?

How will it strike the farmer, the market for whose produce depends upon the purchasing power of the workingmen?

Is it good Canadianism to tie ourselves up by a commercial agreement to a country where men are being discharged by the thousand, especially as in this country every man can get work at good wages?

Arguments may or may not be logical. We may all be mistaken in our conclusions as to the effect of any particular measure. But facts are facts, and six thousand men to be discharged from employment by one railway system is a great and tremendous fact.

We do not want in Canada such conditions as have led to this wholesale discharge of men on the Southern Pacific.

Upon their arrival in international waters the cruisers will fire a farewell salute. Commanding officers of the cruisers have been directed in orders from the navy department to make the exercises as pretentious as is possible under the regulations.

ALL REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Battle in Eastern Canada Going For Mr. Borden and His Followers—Will Make Heavy Gains

GOOD RECEPTIONS IN RURAL ONTARIO

Sir Wilfrid Striving to Win Back Old-Time Supporters in Quebec—Rumored Sale of Liberal Paper

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—"Not a word of discouragement," is the statement from the Conservative headquarters today.

Reports coming from all parts of Canada show the Conservatives going into the present battle with more vigor and enthusiasm than in any election since 1896. Heavy gains are promised from the maritime provinces, and prospective lecture tours in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia give little consolation to the Liberal campaign organizers.

If, as reported, the Halifax Chronicle, long edited by Hon. Mr. Fielding, and latterly owned by B. F. Pearson, a former minister without portfolio in the Murray government, has changed hands on the eve of the election, it threatens disaster to the Fielding forces in Nova Scotia.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is still in Quebec, having come up to the Montreal district, and is utilizing every plea towards swinging disgruntled followers back tino the old lines. The nationalists in the meantime are saying little, and for the most part are staying away from the Laurier meetings.

Mr. Borden continues getting good receptions in Ontario, not only in the big cities, but in the rural districts. Mr. Sifton opened his campaign today in Ingersoll, in Sir Richard Cartwright's old riding.

The past few days have produced but few notable developments beyond the unexpected appearance of an independent candidate in South Toronto in the person of Rev. D. C. Hossack, a former Presbyterian minister. Mr. Hossack goes in against Claude Macdonell, Con-

HON. C. SIFTON OPENS CAMPAIGN

CANADA SHOULD KEEP ITS OWN RESOURCES

INGERSOLL, Ont., Aug. 22.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, for many years minister of the interior in the Laurier cabinet, opened his campaign here tonight against reciprocity. Mr. Sifton will make a tour of the province, opposing the pact, on the ground that Canada should keep her natural resources within her own country.

"If it's true," he said, "that it is essential in the interests of this Dominion of Canada that we should conserve our resources and work out carefully, painfully and perhaps slowly, the best method of making them available in order that we may have a strong, virile and well nourished population, it must be clear that this is no time to take down the bars and turn these resources over to the United States.

"If we enter upon trade relations of an extensive character with the United States, and if favorable anticipations which can be entertained turned out to be well founded, and our friends south of the line use us well and give us nearly everything we ask, what is the inevitable conclusion? Must not our trade and business and very life become mixed with theirs, so that we shall become increasingly dependent upon them with the ultimate end of political union? And if these favorable anticipations are not a realization and they will not treat us well and want to grab and quibble in the interpretation of any reciprocity treaty, what will that mean? It will mean that, ten or fifteen years from now we shall have to begin all over again, just where we are now, and start once again to put ourselves right.

"I do not hold with those who say that those who are opposed to a trade treaty between Canada and the United States are opposed to good relations between the two countries. On the contrary, my view is that the way of continuing the good relations between Canada and the United States, is that each should do its own business independently and have no entanglements—nothing in the world to quarrel about."

PORTUGUESE PLOTTERS

Attempt Made to Release Political Prisoners at Lisbon—Dissatisfied Sergeants.

LISBON, Aug. 22.—(Via Frontier.)—An attempt was made Sunday to release four hundred political prisoners from the Limoeoro prison in this city. A mob overpowered the sentries, but as the iron gates were about to fall before the attack the troops arrived and the deliverers fled.

Sergeants in the army who were dissatisfied at the treatment accorded men of their grade, assembled in secret meeting in the suburb of Balem today according to the Novilhacres. The minister of war, learning of the meeting, sent cavalry to the spot, but all of the men except five escaped.

The Diaro Noticia says the government has ascertained that the country priests, fearing that ecclesiastical property is to be seized by the state, are burying church treasures, consisting of priceless relics, vases and images. It is said that church property valued at $3,000,000 already has disappeared.

Premier McBride Arraigns Reciprocity Pact in Effective Fashion—Means Ruin to Canada's Interests

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—Amid the ringing cheers and pronounced enthusiasm of those who filled the Pender hall last night on the occasion of the Conservative convention, Alderman H. P. Stevens was unanimously nominated as the standard bearer of the party for the constituency of Vancouver in the forthcoming election to take place on September 21. There was complete harmony in the nomination proceedings and when the balloting had been concluded regarding the five candidates aspiring for the honor, an outburst of applause followed the choice resting upon Alderman Stevens.

There were five names submitted to the convention out of which to choose the final nominee. The quintette consisted of Messrs. H. P. Stevens, J. J. Findlay, S. L. Howe, S. M. Woodworth and J. J. Miller. There were three ballots taken, and then Alderman Stevens was made the unanimous selection.

EXTRA SESSION COMES TO CLOSE

President Taft and Members of Congress Lose No Time in Departing—Capital Now Deserted

COTTON TARIFF BILL ENCOUNTERS VETO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The first session of the sixty-second congress ended today, and immediately the departure of members began.

President Taft left with the several hundred tired legislators, and tonight Washington was deserted.

Every outgoing train bore senators and representatives homeward after an extraordinary session that had stretched over 121 days and set the liveliest pace of any legislative session in recent years. The adjournment was featureless, despite the strenuous activity that had gone before. The president vetoed the cotton tariff revision bill, just as he had vetoed its precodecessors, the wool and the free list bills.

The veto only went to the house, and there its reception was marked by Democratic laughter and Republican applause.

SENSATION IN PARIS

Leonardo da Vinci's Famous Picture is Stolen from Louvre—No Clue Yet Found

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The art world was thrown into consternation today by the announcement that Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, "Mona Lisa," had mysteriously disappeared from the Louvre.

The famous painting hung in the place of honor in the salon Carron and not a clue was left to aid the detectives in tracing it. A search of every nook and corner of the Louvre from roof to cellar only brought to light the valuable frame in which the picture had hung, and the glass that covered it. These were found on a back staircase.

The government has set to work its entire force of detectives to recover the painting.

POACHING ON A WHOLESALE SCALE

Inert Fishery Protection Work on West Coast Leads to a Continued Violation of Territorial Limits

Poachers were plentiful scooping in salmon by thousands with trolls and purse seine nets off the west coast of Vancouver island yesterday morning. The steamer Grey, tender of the Canadian Northern Pacific fisheries company, which arrived yesterday with a full cargo of whale oil and fertilizer from the Queen Charlotte Island stations, passed through a great fleet of poachers. There were over a hundred of them at work in waters from a mile or less from shore to five miles from shore, the bulk of them operating inside the three mile limit. There were among them a number of comparatively large vessels, of twenty tons or more. The Grey passed close to two vessels which were inside the three mile limit, the names of these being read, one being the Pioneer No. 2 of Seattle, the other the Discovery. An officer took bearings of their position and found both considerably within the three mile limit. Officers of the Grey stated that the poachers were hauling in fish by thousands.

The poachers at work near Carmanah and Pachena are within view from the lighthouse at Carmanah, with which there is telegraphic connection, and then can also be seen from the wireless telegraphic station at Pachena.

In an article which appeared in the evening paper some days ago, when it was stated that the reports of poachers being busy off the island coast was a "rank falsehood," it was also stated that the marine department's local agency was in constant touch with the tug William Jolliffe, which had been chartered as a fishery protection cruiser, while the Kestrel was laid up at Esquimalt. The William Jolliffe is equipped with wireless telegraphic apparatus, and was last reported cruising as a fishery protection cruiser off the west coast.

Railway Men Laid Off

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—At the office of the general manager of the Union Pacific railway, information was given out that 2,600 employees of that road will be laid off this week. The reduction in force will apply to all departments. The action of the company is said to be due to the fact that since last October business has been falling off.

TO INVESTIGATE LABOR DISPUTES

Personnel of Government Commission to Deal with Railway Difficulty in Britain is Announced

TROUBLE CONFINED TO FEW POINTS

Labor and Socialist Members Attack Ministers on Account of Employment of Military in Strike

LONODN, Aug. 22.—Further progress was made today toward bringing to an end the labor disputes in the United Kingdom by the appointment of a government commission to investigate the railway problem and to settle the local disputes of the Midland and Northeastern railways.

The personnel of the commission is considered fairly to represent the contending interests.

The commission is made up of Sir David Harrel, former under secretary for Ireland, chairman; Thos B. Ellis and Charles G. Beale, for the railroads, and Arthur Henderson, M. P., and John Burnett for the men.

The terms under which the commission was appointed are that it shall investigate the working of the conciliation and working agreement of 1907, with a view to the prompt and satisfactory settlement of differences.

Liverpool now remains the only serious point of labor trouble.

Parliament adjourned today until October.

In the course of the debate in the House of Commons today there was a lively passage between James Keir Hardie, the Socialist leader, and David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer. Mr. Hardie accused the government of taking the side of the railway directors. He declared vehemently that the men who had been shot down by the troops "were murdered in the interest of the capitalistic system."

Mr. Lloyd George replied that the great conflagration had been put out but that there were smouldering fires here and there which at any moment might burst into flames. He declared he knew nothing more likely to bring about such a disaster, and perhaps cause the men to fling away what their leaders claimed was a triumph, than "such grossly inaccurate statements" as had been made by Mr. Hardie. The government, he added, had used its whole power to see that justice was done both parties to the dispute.

In naming the commissioners, Premier Asquith briefly congratulated the country that the clouds had lifted, adding amid cheers, that the fewer words said in regard to the past at the present moment, the better.

James Ramsay Macdonald, chairman of the Labor party, who took a prominent part in the negotiations for a settlement, told the house that if the spirit shown on both sides during the course of the negotiations prevailed in the future relations, the country had heard the last of railway strikes in this day and generation.

However, he was unable to resist making a heated denunciation of Home Secretary Churchill and the employment of soldiers during the strike. He declared that the department which had played the most diabolical part during the whole unrest was the home office. Mr. Churchill's bulletins on the situation, he said were "mischievous and inaccurate and the expressions of opinions therein were not sensible and the effect was to make the men more desirous of continuing the fighting than of coming to a settlement. I hope that we have heard the last of these fussy interferences by persons who do not understand the nature of the circumstances with which they are dealing, but who desire to find themselves in the newspapers day by day."

Parliament adjourned until October 24th.

Guards Band Coming

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The Allan liner Virginian will likely sail from Liverpool today. On board will be the Coldstream Guards band.

PRESS CAMPAIGN FOR HARBOR FACILITIES

How the Colonist During Recent Years has Advocated Brotchie Ledge Breakwater and Improvements to Port

Advocating the construction of the Brotchie Ledge breakwater and harbor improvements in November, 1908, the Colonist said: "A breakwater and wharfage stretching to deep water within the harbor created by the construction of the breakwater will soon be necessary. At the present the outer wharves, built many years ago by R. P. Rithet & Co., fulfill the requirements of the existing trade, but, if the growth of shipping in the past is taken as a criterion of the future other wharfage available to vessels of great tonnage, such as the big Empresses, vessels of 14,500 tons, will be necessary as soon as it can be secured even if work was started at once. It is estimated that at least five years would be required for the construction of harbor works, and the most conservative estimate advanced by local shipping men is that before that time the tonnage plying to this port will be of such a nature that the works will be of absolute and urgent necessity."

On February 9, 1909, the Colonist said: "The modern port must anticipate requirements, and not be just in line with them, or just a little behind the shipowner's wants." This statment, made by a writer in an English magazine, regarding modern port improvement, indicates the necessity on the part of Victorians of considering what is necessary to anticipate requirements at this port. The port works, with the exception of the drydock, are at present sufficient for the traffic of the day; but not for the traffic of the immediate future. New lines are being organized, existing services are being improved, and to cope with the requirements of future trade the consideration of harbor improvements is necessary. Whether a breakwater and new outer harbor is necessary, or extra piers at the outer wharf, the improvemnet of the inner and upper harbor, the establishment of dockage facilities at Esquimalt, or whatever scheme is necessary for the improvement of the port, the time has come for the immediate consideration of the requirements to secure the full advantage of the fortunate position in which Victoria is placed as the most favorably located of the North Pacific ports. It is the most direct and easy of access, closest to the open ocean and devoid of intricate passages or other dangers which handicap rival ports, and with the proper facilities required by future commerce will enjoy a great trade."

Articles appeared in the Colonist almost daily during the month of November, 1908, calling attention to the necessity of harbor improvements being urged, the lesson of Plymouth, Antwerp, Montreal and many other points being commented upon.

The following appeared editorially in the Colonist of November, 1908:

"We recognize, of course, that the advantages of Esquimalt as a port for ocean liners must always be taken into account, and so far as the business interests of this city are concerned, it would make really very little difference whether the liners go to Esquimalt or come directly to our outer harbor. The dockage which a breakwater to Brotchie Ledge would provide would, we think, be far better than anything which Esquimalt can offer, but we make no claim to be able to give an expert opinion upon this point."

INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION IN UNITED STATES

The Montreal Star in a recent issue had the following respecting industrial conditions in the United States:

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 10.—The Cleveland Leader say that vessel-owners on the Great Lakes are preparing to organize a trust among themselves to offset the hard times. If they succeed, they will attempt to make up, at the cost of the shipper and ultimately at the cost of the consumer, for lost profits. Says the Leader:

"That a number of the leading fleets of bulk freight vessels on the lakes will be merged during the coming winter is quite certain. According to present plans there will be about 100 vessels in the new company at the start and provisions will be made to take in more later.

"In discussing the proposed merger, the manager of one of the largest of the independent fleets said that something along that line must be done by the outside vessel owners.

"We cannot make any money under the present plan of operation and something must be done to protect the millions of dollars tied up in lake vessel property. Our operating expenses are too great to permit a steamer that was regarded as a modern freighter a few years ago to pay her fixed charges, to say nothing about a dividend for the stockholders. By placing the boats under one management, he said, many carriers could be cut off and the saving in operating expenses alone would be enough to pay a fair dividend.

"'Nearly a third of the outside boats could not get down loads and running light in the coal trade with the present operating expenses is not profitable,' he said. 'Grain in many cases was carried at a loss. I know that to be a fact as I had to settle. I don't think that the earnings of any of the lake fleets will much more than pay for the depreciation of the vessels this year.'"

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The balbriggan manufacturers of New York state in session at Amsterdam talked over the business situation to ascertain what curtailment was going on. It was learned that many mills were already stopped and practically all were likely to be closed until about September 15. This means a curtailment of over 12,000 dozen daily of balbriggan underwear. This curtailment is forced by the uncertain business conditions now prevailing.

The following mills were represented: Bailey Knitting Mills, Fort Plain, N. Y.; Gardiner & Warring Company, John K. Stewart & Sons, and Van Brocklin & Stover Company, of Amsterdam; Gilbert Knitting Mills, and MacKinnon Mills, Little Falls; Johnstown; Brown Knitting Company of Warsaw; Perry Knitting Company of Perry, and Capron Knitting Company of Utica.

To the Editor of The Montreal Star:

Sir—Interested by your campaign against reciprocity, under the title of "Industrial Conditions in the United States," I take great pleasure in helping along the work by stating some facts, which I have gained by experience.

I have just lately returned from a visit to Australia, and on my way across the continent from Vancouver I stopped in Seattle, thinking I might secure work at the high wages I had heard were being paid in that city.

Well, business in that city is simply dead. A great many of the large shops are in receivers' hands, and a great many more which are not, are only kept open because their creditors are afraid to lose all by closing them.

The streets are crowded with people on the lookout for work, while the labor bureaus are so besieged that they need special officers to keep the streets clear in that district. The railroads are doing a good business by carrying those who can afford it across the border into Canada, and all the steamers going to Alaska are crowded with people, who are risking their last few dollars in the hope of getting work.

The chamber of commerce has made an effort to boom business by holding a celebration, termed the "Golden Potlach," but not with much success.

If this is an example of general trade conditions throughout the States, I can only say that Canada has nothing to gain and much to lose by passing the reciprocity bill.

CHILLY RESPONSE IN VICTORIA WEST

Liberal Rally Fails to Arouse Enthusiasm Among Ward One Electors—Loyalty Cry is Belittled

Maybe it was that the Liberals of Victoria West were aware that the leader of the party, together with the recent importations would not be on hand to give the faithful of Ward One, an exposition of the Liberal policy, but instead would be regaled by some of the lesser lights, or perhaps Victoria West as a Liberal stronghold, is a weak sister, but the fact remains that it was a chilly atmosphere which pervaded Semple's hall when the first ward meeting was called last evening. The session was delayed for half an hour until a score of the faithful had assembled. Towards the conclusion of the meeting this number was gradually augmented until the hall was about three-quarters full.

Hon. William Templeman was still indisposed and was unable to attend, while Mr. J. S. Cowper, editor of the Prince Rupert News, whom his admirers term "the economic thinker of the west," had been loaned to Mr. Duncan Ross, Liberal candidate for Comox-Atlin, to boost for the latter's interests at a meeting held last evening at Alberni.

On Col. A. W. Currie, who officiated as chairman, Mr. R. L. Drury, Mr. T. D. Patullo, also of Prince Rupert, and Mr. F. J. Stackpoole, rested the duty of impressing their hearers, but their efforts were only partially successful. No other Liberals found a place upon the platform. Col. Currie, while regretting the absence of Hon. Mr. Templeman and Mr. Cowper, expressed the belief that the speakers present were the equal of, if not superior to, the absentees.

Mr. Drury dealt almost wholly with the Oriental immigration question, claiming that at the last election it was that question which defeated the Hon. Mr. Templeman, the misrepresentations of the Conservatives having resulted in the defeat of a cabinet minister. He urged that now that Victoria has an opportunity of again securing a cabinet representative, the electors should not lose the opportunity. He quoted from the Colonist of Oct. 27, 1908, to the effect that it was this very question which caused Mr. Templeman's defeat and he also took occasion to remark that "that was the opinion of the leading journal of the city."

Oriental Immigrations

Mr. Drury claimed the arrangement made by Canada with Japan had proved most effective in restricting Japanese immigration. A Natal Act, as advocated by Premier McBride, imposing an educational test and forcing incomers to make application in English, would not have proved effective because practically all Japanese school children are taught English and the Natal Act test would have proved a farce. He pointed to the fact that local labor organizations had, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in Victoria, declared the present arrangement is satisfactory and a settlement of a grave question. The very arrangement with Japan on which Mr. Templeman had then gone down to defeat, had been proved of the utmost value. Mr. Templeman's election now would be his complete vindication. As to the abolition of the head tax, the government was prepared to leave it to the people. If they wanted a similar arrangement with China as with Japan, it is up to the people to speak.

As to reciprocity, Mr. Drury urged the same arguments, claiming that the determining factor was the purchaser and if Canada can secure a market of 90,000,000, there was no reason to dread the absorption politically or otherwise of Canada's 8,000,000. He concluded by promising that when he got "a new coat of paint and got supplied up a little," he would be before the electors again.

T. D. Patullo spoke briefly upon the reciprocity pact, his chief argument being that the men who have guided the destinies of the Dominion for so long, who have built up a great nation and long studied national questions should be returned to power. The Conservative party was, he claimed, bound up with the vested interests and are tooting the horn for those interests.

Fear of Annexation

It remained for Mr. Stackpoole to gracefully acknowledge the presence of three ladies in the audience, and he did so in felicitous terms. He especially urged attention to organization and warned his hearers of any "voting from Ross Bay." The Conservatives fear annexation if reciprocity comes into force. This loyalty cry, he believed, to be the only stock in trade of the opponents of the measure. But loyalty, after all, depends very much upon a full stomach. He could not see where, by letting down the barriers and permitting Canadians to increase their wages and earnings, could effect, their loyalty. Perhaps the method of keeping up the barrier but permitting the Yankees to monopolize the natural resources of the province, would be better for British Columbia, as, he declared, this province is now doing, but he could not think so. Wages would not be lowered, but the purchasing power of the people would be increased by lowering the cost to the consumer.

Mr. Stackpoole slated Sir William Van Horn, who, he said, was against reciprocity because the greater part of his interests are outside the country except a pulp mill which naturally Sir William would wish to see protected by the prohibition of exports of pulp wood to the States. But C. P. R. stock never stood higher and in the company's Seattle office, a sign reads: "If reciprocity passes, Canadian lands will advance 100 per cent." That was where the C. P. R. stood.

On the point of loyalty, Mr. Stackpoole declared the Conservatives of today were the followers of those Conservatives, who in '54, passed a resolution favoring annexation; drove Governor Elgin into hiding for three weeks at the point of the rifle, burnt the government buildings in Quebec and refused to send troops to assist in the expedition for the relief of General Gordon. On the other hand, the Liberals had instituted the British preference, sent troops to South Africa, and founded the Canadian navy on lines suggested by the Imperial government. These steps should sufficiently give the lie to the Conservative cry of disloyalty in bringing forward the reciprocity pact.

Col. Currie concluded by expressing the belief that it would be foolish to assert that if "you can get the bacon with a duty, you are loyal, while to get it without duty, spells disloyalty." To have reciprocity would mean that every working man would save on his weekly grocery bill and his wife would thus be able to send out her washing. The meeting concluded with the singing of the National Anthem, but there were no cheers.

STILL NEGOTIATE OVER MOROCCO

France and Germany So Far Fail to Reach Settlement, But Have Not Yet Given Up Hope

PARIS, Aug. 22.—Premier Calliaux is taking counsel of the diplomatic and political wisdom of France during these days of uncertainty in the Moroccan negotiations with Germany. The French ambassadors at Berlin, London, and Rome, Jules Cambon, Paul Cambon and Camille Barrere, who had been summoned to Paris were received by M. Calliaux today.

Justice De Selves, the minister of foreign affairs, Jean Cruppi, minister of justice, and Theophile Delcasse, the minister of marine, also conferred with the premier, who is preparing for a special cabinet meeting to be summoned for the end of the week.

A cautious and firm semi-official note was issued by the government this afternoon relative to the negotiations with Germany, saying:

"Ambassador Cambon will return to Berlin toward the end of August, probably about the 28th. In the mean time he will have in Paris several conferences with the premier, minister of foreign affairs, and minister of colonies concerning the subjects of his conversations with Herr Waechter, the German minister of foreign affairs.

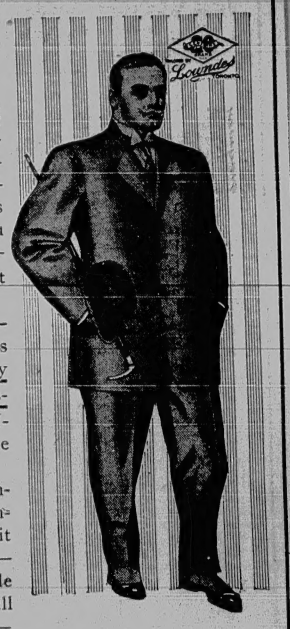

"It is believed that the difficulties will be solved. It is, however, true that the rights of France in Morocco must be recognized without diminution on the part of Germany and regulated definitely in a manner to avoid all future complications; and second, that Germany reduce her territorial desires in the French Congo, which appear excessive."

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—Rumors that a breaking off of the negotiations between Germany and France regarding Morocco was impending, were circulated on the Bourse after the close of the official trading today and caused a heavy drop in prices. Inquiries here show that there is no foundation for the rumors which appear to have originated at Vienna.

The government officials maintain their previously expressed belief that an agreement can be reached.

CONSERVATIVE RALLY IN BROAD STREET HALL

Electors of Ward Three to Hear Speeches on Political Issues—Nanaimo Nominating Convention

In the central Conservative committee rooms last evening ward four Conservatives with Alderman H. M. Fullerton in the chair, held a rousing meeting which was largely attended by over fifty of the workers in the polling division. The candidate, Mr. G. H. Barnard, was present and delivered an address on the issues before the electors, while among the other speakers were Mr. John Dean, who made a very telling speech on what the results of the reciprocity pact would be and its disastrous effect on Canada and her industries; and Mr. W. Blakemore.

A meeting of ward one committee workers, also very largely attended, was held in the central committee rooms last evening, with ex-Alderman W. J. Mable in the chair. The business before this gathering was further organization and much useful work was accomplished.

This evening the Conservatives of ward three will hold a public rally in Broad Street hall, when addresses will be delivered by the candidate, Mr. G. H. Barnard, Mr. R. F. Green, Mr. H. C. Hannington, Mr. W. Blakemore and others. The chair will be taken by Alderman Gleason. This meeting will be open to all Conservatives in ward three and it is expected that there will be a very large attendance. The questions of reciprocity, the naval policy with its peculiar applicability to the Pacific Coast and Esquimalt, and the Chinese immigration question will be taken up by the speakers and dealt with as they affect the electors of Victoria.

This afternoon the Conservatives of the Nanaimo electoral district are holding a convention at Duncan for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest that constituency in opposition to Mr. Ralph Smith, who has been selected in the Liberal interests. The following delegates from the Metchosin district will be in attendance: Messrs. H. D. Helmcken, K.C., D. Henry, H. H. Nejld, S. H. Briggs, G. Beanstum and C. D. Griffiths. Colwood, Saanich, Esquimalt and other districts in the southern part of the Island will also be fully represented and the convention promises to be the largest ever held in the interests of the candidate in the Nanaimo constituency.

BLOODED EQUINES FOR HORSE SHOW

Strong Contributions From the Stables of Vancouver, Seattle and Spokane — Mr. Clements, M. C.

If Vancouver Island's annual horse show, which is to be held as usual in connection with the Victoria exhibition from September 5th to 9th, isn't a pronounced success it won't be because there are not plenty of the highest clas of entries. Horsemen from all sections of the northwest are being attracted by the local competitions this year. Practically every important Vancouver stable is sending a large contribution. Seattle also is forwarding a string of blooded equines and Spokane as well will be strongly represented. As master of ceremonies Mr. Clements, the expert who had charge in 1909 and through his intimate knowledge of the ring provided much entertainment, is sure to add to the public interest in the affair.

Last night the local management was pleasantly surprised by receiving telegraph notice from Mr. Andrew Laidlaw, of Spokane, of his intention to enter a string of nine high steppers. Mr. Laidlaw's horses are celebrated throughout the northwest and the news that he is coming will be pleasing to many Victorians. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Vancouver, also will be among the chief competitors. His famous horse Credential, fresh from triumphs at the Olympic horse show, London, England, will be seen in the ring. Among the standard breds will be those owned by Mr. W. H. Mason, Mr. S. L. Howe and Mr. W. S. Holland, all of Vancouver. Besides these there are a large number of local entries of which may be mentioned representatives of the stables of Mrs. B. W. Pearce and Mr. J. M. Savage.

Bronco Busting

Every day the prospects for an exceptionally fine series of bronco busting contests grow brighter. Those who have been placed in charge of the collection of as many "bad actors" as are available in the British Columbia interior, writing from Kamloops, state that there is a carload en route to Victoria from that centre in which are included horses that will give the most expert riders a difficult task. In addition to these there will be five from Chilliwack all bearing reputations which assures a struggle among the cowboys to master them that should provide spectators with the keenest form of amusement. These events will be put on every afternoon in front of the grand stand during the intervals allowed between the horse races. The latter start on Wednesday and continue to the end of the week. The programme comprises two harness nad three running races. For the former there never were as many nor as high class entries. In one will figure the famous Bland S., who has a record of 2.04. It is believed by horsemen that the trotting races that will be seen here during the forthcoming fair will be the best ever witnessed on the local track.

One of the exhibition's features will be the presence in general competition and in the horse show of two stallions and a mare of pure Kentucky blood. They are owned by Mr. C. Doering of Vancouver.

PORT MISSIONARY DIES SUDDENLY

Late Mr. J. S. Bailey, a Prominent Figure in Work of Local Seamen's Institute — Was Aged 78 Years

A figure well known in Victoria and Esquimalt, where for the past twenty years he had worked unremittingly for the amelioration of the lot of his fellow men, passed away last evening in the death of Mr. James Smith Bailey, who has been the most prominent figure in the affairs of the local Seamen's institute since its inception some twelve years ago. Death overtook him suddenly, for though indisposed for the past few days, his illness was not regarded as serious until he succumbed to heart failure shortly before eleven o'clock last evening.

Born at Milden Hall, Suffolk, Eng., in 1833, he went to India two years before the mutiny broke out. For many years in that dependency he was engaged as a scripture reader, subsequently holding the posts of chapiain and schoolmaster to the Gip Railway. For six years he was connected, in the positions of both manager and secretary, with the Sailors' institute at the Princess Dock, Bombay. In 1891 he came to Victoria and immediately became active in church work, and he retained this interest unabated up to his last moments. Twelve years ago when, through the instrumentality of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Perrin, the local Seamen's institute was formed as a church adjunct he was placed in charge. Some years ago through the late Mr. Bailey's influence the Seamen's institute became associated with the British and Foreign Sailors Society of London, Eng., an organization with world wide branches. Since coming to Victoria the deceased had been one of the most prominent lay readers in the Anglican church and up to the time of his death he had frequently taken the services at the Old Men's Home and at the jail, as well as frequently at St. Marks.

But it is in connection with the Seamen's institute that his work will be best remembered. Wherever it was possible to forward the interests of the seafaring man he used his utmost endeavors. Members of the crews of practically all the ships which have called at this port during the past decade will remember his kindly manner, his large heartedness, and his readiness to render all assistance where assistance was possible. For some months past he had been eagerly looking forward to supervising the building of a new Seaman's home in the city, and only yesterday he spoke enthusiastically of the plans which were afoot.

Death came at the residence of his son, Mr. Hedley H. Bailey, 912 Caledonia avenue. Besides this son he leaves a daughter, Miss Marie Elizabeth Bailey, who is in charge of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel school at Bombay; and seven grandchildren all of whom are residents of Victoria.

MYSTERIOUS TRAGEDY

Eastern Washington Farmer Murdered in His House by Some Person Unknown

SPOKANE, Aug. 22.—Two boys, Albert Kemp and Earl Miller, going past the farm house of Louis N. Nelson, four miles east of Springdale, north of Spokane, this afternoon, had their curiosity so aroused by seeing the Nelson team and wagon aimlessly wandering around in an open field, that they went to the house to make some inquiry, and discovered Mr. Nelson lying on the floor face down, dead.

He had been shot in the face and neck by some one using a shotgun, though when the shooting took place, or for what reason, or the identity of his assailant are matters not yet known.

Nelson was a bachelor, living alone, and was seen about dark last night driving to his home.

Australian Socialists

MELBOURNE, Aug. 22.—The Socialists of Sydney have issued a manifesto on the subject of compulsory training as enforced by the recently passed laws of the Commonwealth. The manifesto incites the cadets to resist authority and to refuse to undergo the training required of them. The socialists say that the boys are participating in organized murder in order to defend the stolen wealth of capitalists.

Attempt to Rob Bank

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 22.—A daring and well-planned attempt to blow the safe in the main branch of the Union Bank, at the corner of Seymour and Hastings street, Sunday night, was only frustrated by the staunchness of the safe. The attempted burglary was similar in many respects to that made on the Traders' Bank here a couple of months ago, except that on this occasion the safe-blowers gained admittance from the top of the vault instead of through the door.

New South Wales Politics

MELBOURNE, Aug. 22.—Mr. McGowen's government has averted defeat for a time at any rate. The New South Wales cabinet has induced a disgruntled Liberal to take the speakership of the house, and in this way the labor ministry is able to maintain its majority of one, gained as the result of the recent by-elections. The Liberal opposition is not relaxing its efforts to bring about a dissolution.

United Wireless Frauds

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Christopher Columbus Wilson, Francis X. Bueler, and William Thompkins will start tomorrow for jails where they will serve sentences for misusing the mails in defrauding investors in stock of the United Wireless Telegraph Company. Wilson and Bueler will start for Atlanta, where they will serve three and two-year terms, respectively, in the Federal prison. Thompkins will go to Blackwell's Island for a year. The mandate of the United States circuit court affirming the judgment of the trial court was accorded today.

With the lists at hand the city has been well covered, but it may be that through oversight many friends have been overlooked. The management desires to announce that reservations may be made upon application to the chief clerk or manager. Songhee Grill (Hotel Westholme.)

TO WORKINGMEN

Yesterday an Associated Press telegram announced that the Southern Pacific would discharge six thousand of its employees because no freight was offering. This discloses an exceedingly serious condition of things in the United States. It emphasizes what we referred to very recently in these columns when we spoke of the general financial and industrial state of that country.

We invite the working men who read the Colonist to consider what this means. Let them reflect upon the difference between things as they are in Canada, and as they are in the United States. If the action of the Southern Pacific were an isolated or unusual case, it might be dismissed as one of those incidents that are to be expected in the business world. But it is not an isolated case. All over the United States the same stress, as is compelling this action by the great southern railway company, exists. In Seattle, to take the nearest point where observations can be made, things are in an exceedingly unsatisfactory state. Employment is scarce; wages are low and enterprise is at a standstill.

The strongest advocates of reciprocity will not deny that, if the agreement comes into effect, Canada will be governed very largely as to economic conditions by what transpires in the United States. What will happen in that event? There will be a determined effort on the part of the business community of the United States to exploit reciprocity for all it is worth. They must turn somewhere for relief. The consequence will be that all manner of visionary projects to be located in Canada will be set on foot, and there will be a rush of workingmen into this country, whereby the labor market will be swamped.

We appeal to the workingmen as to reasonable men. Is the experiment that they are asked to sanction worth trying? They cannot reasonably hope for better times than now prevail in Canada. They may find the result of the experiment to be that they will have to put up with the kind of times existing in the United States. Do they want this?

At the present time of all times Canadians should not dream of linking their commercial and industrial future with that of the United States. Is it not an undeniable fact that business has been getting worse in that country for several years past? We all know it is the case. The advocates of reciprocity will not deny this. Is it not also true that the President of the United States only took up the question of reciprocity because something had to be done to appease the popular clamor for a policy that would promise some measure of relief? Surely no one will deny this; surely no one will pretend for the fraction of a second that Mr. Taft had any altruistic notions in his mind, and was seeking to benefit Canada. His course looks like a desperate effort to avert in some way the calamity which he sees impending over his country and his party.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has put Canada in such a position that if it ratifies the reciprocity agreement it will be plunged into all the uncertainty existing across the border, and we ask the workingmen of British Columbia if they are willing to try the experiment which closer trade relations with that country will inaugurate. We do not believe they will, but that on the contrary they will leave well enough alone.

A STRANGE ERROR

We are bound to believe, until the contrary is shown, that a newspaper believes the things it states in its editorial columns. Therefore we assume that the local Liberal paper believes what it states in the following quotation from its editorial columns of yesterday:

> The export royalty has not only not caused the establishment of a single lumber mill in the country nor has it prevented the export of a single stick of lumber from this province. The timber resources of British Columbia have been leased by the provincial government to Americans. Four-fifths of these limits are already controlled by Americans and they will continue to control them for ninety-nine years if they continue to pay the licenses. The owners of this timber log it and ship it to their own American mills, paying an export royalty in the sum named. They can afford to do so because they have always been able to ship their products back into Canada duty free while they have had the advantage of an embargo of $1.25 per thousand on Canadian lumber going into their own country. After paying their 60 cents royalty they still have the Canadian lumberman handicapped with the duty which amounts to another 65 cents net per thousand, so they can go on exporting our timber, manufacturing it in the United States and shipping it wheresoever they choose.

The fact of the case is that the export of saw logs from British Columbia is absolutely prohibited by law. It is also a fact that on several occasions United States holders of timber licenses have forfeited limits valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, because they have contravened this essential condition upon which the licenses are held. Our contemporary speaks of "leases," but what it really has in mind are licenses, for no leases have been granted since the McBride government came into power. The hollowness of our contemporary's argument is at once apparent from the fact that its assumed facts are not facts at all. It would be interesting to know what it thinks it is talking about.

IMPORTANT NEWS

The statement which we publish this morning in regard to the plans of the new owners of James Island, or St. James Island as they wish it to be hereafter called, is exceedingly interesting. The island is almost an ideal location for a summer colony, and possesses advantages not easily equalled anywhere. It will be almost unique among summer resorts because of the remarkable combination of features present there. Hundreds of people will avail themselves of the opportunity that will be afforded by such a resort. It will be really a suburb of Victoria, for the land journey to a point on the Saanich Peninsula opposite the island is only twelve miles and the width of the channel in the narrowest part is only slightly over half a mile.

This project will add very greatly to the value of all property in the Gulf Islands. It is announced the Pier Island is to be subdivided into high class residential property, and there are scores of other places where people desiring homes amid beautiful surroundings, and at the same time a little apart from the busy centres of population, will be sure to locate. The fact that the Canadian Pacific has taken the trade of the islands in hand is abundant proof that every accommodation in the matter of transportation that can reasnably be asked will be forthcoming. We look for an exceedingly progressive future for these delightful parts of the province. That Victoria will greatly benefit thereby goes without saying.

THINK THIS OVER

We have seen a circular issued by the Kamloops Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition Association, from which we make the following extract:

> Strenuous efforts are being made by the executive of the above association to make this year's exhibition an unqualified success. Prominent men in the district are showing their interest; co-operation of merchants and professional men is assured; the agricultural community are alive to the duty of showing the possibilities of the interior in general, and the Thompson valleys in particular, and an appeal is made to all to co-operate in making the forthcoming exhibition an object lesson of what can be done by the fruit grower, truck farmer, grain grower, poultry raiser, and horse and cattle rancher.
> The association is strictly non-political, but the considerations set out in the quotation have an imprtant political aspect. The object of this and every other provincial Agricultural Association is to develop in British Columbia an industry of the utmost value, and yet while this effort is being made, the Dominion government is asking the farmers to consent to remove every shred of protection they have in their own markets.

WAS IT A CRISIS

It has been pointed out that during all the strenuous weeks that preceded the passage of the Parliament Bill not a single petition was presented to Parliament praying that it might not become law, not a popular meeting was held to denounce it and that the by-elections were humdrum affairs in which no one took any particular interest. The morning papers devoted miles of copy to the question, but the evening papers hardly paid any attention to it, confining themselves to news of sport, aviation and matters of mere passing interest. The truth of the matter was that the British public were quite indifferent to what was transpiring. We can understand that the supporters of the government, feeling that the measur was safe, might refrain from expressing any opinion. But how shall we explain the indifference of the great mass which votes the Unionist ticket? They refused absolutely to be stampeded into a panic. It is amusing now to read the wild assertions made by some of the papers before the Bill was passed. The Observer, Mr. J. L. Garvin's paper, which is owned by Mr. Astor, called upon the "die-hards" not to surrender, for it assured them that the majority of the peers were with them, and that their popular influence was great; but the populace simply laughed at the "die-hards," and while they played their frenzied part never encouraged them by so much as a paltry petition or a sympathetic public meeting. As the Church Times put it, "the politicians are excited; the country is calm." It is also amusing now to recall how frenzied some of our Canadian newspapers managed to get. They out-Cecilled Cecil in the denunciation of Mr. Asquith and all his works. The British Weekly denies that there was anything like a crisis. It calls the Parliament Bill "only a retarded evolution," and says it is a quiet change which in its consequences "will by no means justify the fears of its opponents." If we may judge from the British press there are signs of returning sanity on the part of the wild Unionists; but we observe that such men as the Rev. Canon Hensley Henson fear for the effect upon the public of the scene in the House of Commons when, as Mr. Augustine Birrel has said, "the language hurled at the Premier's head would have disgraced a gambling hell or a thieves' kitchen." The shock to the nation was a severe one, and its effects are likely to be felt for some time to come.

THE STRIKE SETTLED

The prompt settlement of the railway men's strike in the United Kingdom illustrates once more the marvellous capacity of the British people for self government. A day or two ago things looked very threatening, and some timid people expected little else than disaster. But the confidence of the people in their institutions saved the situation. We do not say confidence in the present ministry, although this may have been an element in the case; what we mean is the confidence of all classes of the British people in the sufficiency of their institutions to meet every possible emergency. There was no talk on the part of the railway men about the government not acting in good faith. Mr. John Burns spoke truly when he said that as soon as the people understood what the government proposed they would agree to it.

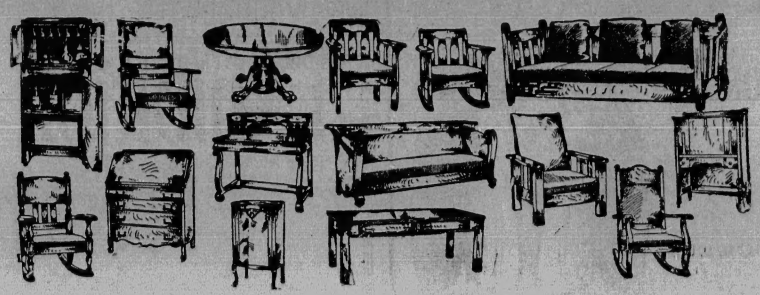

The settlement of this formidable strike following the adjustment of the dock laborers strike are great triumphs for the Asquith ministry, for they will inspire confidence in it to a degree that nothing else could. We direct attention to the fact that in the serious conditions created by the railway strike, as in the critical stage reached by the Morocco incident, there was no attempt on the part of the opposition to embarrass the ministry. In the United Kingdom it is happily recognized that, however much men may be opposed to each other on matters of policy, they are as one in moments of national crisis.

We have a very interesting, though brief, interview with Mr. Robert Dinsdale, the well-known Victoria contractor. Mr. Dinsdale's views are especially important because he has always been identified with the Liberal party, and one of its most active workers. The opinions which he says he found very generally held during his journey home across Canada, are beginning to be those of hundreds of persons hitherto identified with the Liberal party. Canadians do not need reciprocity, and the evidence multiplies daily that they do not want it.

What the Colonist may or may not think about the Chinese head-tax is not in issue just now. What the voters have a right to know is what Mr. Templeman meant when he said: "The Chinese have been coming in in considerable numbers of late, and the question is what shall we do as to the $500 head-tax . . As to the increase in the head-tax I do not know that I would be prepared to say it should be done. . . . I would very much prefer to see an agreement which would limit to a very reduced number the Chinese coming in here, somewhat on the lines of our agreement with Japan."

We find in "Canada" a very interesting article by Mr. R. G. Harvey, of Vancouver, in which he deals with real estate investments in British Columbia from the standpoint of the money-lender on mortgages or other real estate securities. Mr. Harvey states the case with much clearness. He closes with this observation with which we are sure all Canadians will agree: "On the far Pacific Coast of Canada an intensely loyal people will be found with a strong love of everything British, to which the British manufacturer could well pay attention, with the full assurance of a growing market with the rapid development now going on."

"Mr. Pugsley At Once Orders Vast Improvements." This is the joyous headline in a St. John paper favorable to the Minister of Public Works. Compare this with the tentative observations which Mr. Templeman made in regard to the Brotchie Ledge Breakwater at the Liberal convention. "If it is found feasible the minister is prepared and so on" is as far as our British Columbia member of the Cabinet is prepared to go. As we said on a former occasion, the Minister of Inland Revenue would do well to take a leaf out of Mr. Pugsley's book in respect to these things, but then perhaps if he did, he would no longer be Minister of Inland Revenue. He would be made an example of little Oliver Twist, who presumed to ask for more.

Exhibition of Hand-Made French Whitewear

Also Demonstration of Thomson's Glove-Fitting Corsets

This week commenced a demonstration by our Miss Savage, whose unique experience as a corsetiere and whitewear expert, should appeal to the ladies of Victoria. We have secured the control of the Thomson Glove-fitting Corset for Victoria, and during the week Miss Savage will be pleased at all times to advise ladies on those matters pertaining to the correct style and adaption of that important part which the Corset determines as the foundation to the fashionably dressed woman. In connection with this Corset demonstration, we are desirous of bringing to the notice of ladies whose taste for Whitewear leans toward the exclusive.

Our European agents have spent a considerable amount of time and energy in visiting the centres where this beautiful French hand-made Whitewear is produced, going among the homes, also the convents, where only this class of work can be obtained. Needless to suggest, here obtains the finest needle workers the world knows, and when we say that we are in an unique position in the Dominion possessing goods from these clever workers and having their own special designs confined to us, all we desire is that these beautiful creations should be viewed, it being our pleasure to show the many and various designs produced by these exceedingly clever French needle women.

A word about the Thomson Glove-Fitting Corsets — We specially recommend the merits of the following styles in Thomson's Glove-Fitting Corsets.

"LaVictorie" — This model, one of the finest productions of Thomson's Glove-Fitting Corsets, is specially designed for slender figures, is perfect in fit and the style is all that can be desired for the fashion of today. It is boned throughout with Ebonine, very fine filling, giving the wearer perfect ease and comfort. We specially recommend this model to our clientele, feeling assured it will give perfect satisfaction. Price $7.00.

Recherche Combinations, charming effects in hand embroidery, in star patterns, floral designs, also in open-work, giving a very lacey effect, others have real torchon lace medallions beautifully arranged, also torchon lace edgings, another style plainly made with eyelet embroidery. Prices range from $7.00 to $35.00.

Ladies' Drawers, absolutely French in style, medium, very wide—just the styles desired by fashionably attired women. The embroidered designs on these goods are most exquisite, floral, also conventional, being greatly in evidence, edges being Vandyke finish. Prices range, $5.00 to $8.00.

Ladies' 'Distingue' Night Gowns, in slip-over style, short sleeves, yokes are most elaborately embroidered in hand work, edges with real linen torchon lace, introducing torchon medallions, also prettily arranged ribbon work finished with rosettes, the tucking on these garments is of a very high standard of workmanship. Prices range from $5.00 to $40.00.

Some lovely creations in Corset Covers with dainty scroll designs, introducing the fleur-de-lys, also with fine hand tucking. Prices range from $2.25 to $6.00.

Some extreme novelties in sample Underskirts with large floral designs, made up in fine sheer linen—masterpieces from the cleverest needle women in France. These goods are works of art.

This model is designed especially for medium full figures, very durable, and giving the perfect lines demanded by the present fashion. Price, $5.00.

Other styles are made on the same order as the preceding ones, made in batiste and coutil, high and low bust, with long and medium hips. Prices ranging from $1.75 to $4.00.

When these first American made Corsets were introduced to the public in the late fifties, they were given the name of Glove-Fitting because of the original glove-making ideas embodied in their designing. The name fitted the corset, because the corset fitted the figure, and both achieved immediate success, because the object of perfect style and perfect comfort to the wearer were accomplished.

This style in the Thomson Glove-Fitting Corset is an unusually pretty and smart model, made of fancy stripe cloth, and has the Paris long back, handsomely trimmed and particularly adapted to the average figure. Price, $5.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Collcutt, of Vancouver, and Mr. H. J. Chard, of Glasgaw, farmed a motoring party who spent a pleasant outing at Shawnigan lake, where they were guests at the Strathcona hotel.

Right Rev. Bishop Perrin and Ven. Archdeacon Scriven are leaving town on tonight's boat for Vancouver to attend an important meeting about the new theological college which is to be held tomorrow morning in St. Paul's church schoolroom.

Mr. J. A. Bailliargeon, a well known department store owner of Seattle, accompanied by the Misses Bailliargeon, of Seattle, and Miss Mary MacDonald, of Minneapolis, were guests last week at the Strathcona hotel during a motor trip of the island.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Simpson, H. E. Simpson and Mr. R. Greenwood, of Victoria, motored up to Shawnigan lake, where they were guests at the Strathcona hotel overnight, and returned to the city yesterday after a pleasant outing.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Will Go to Convention—Fire Chief Davis will attend the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs Association, which will meet at Vancouver, commencing on September 17. The finance committee of the city council has sanctioned a vote of $100 for the chief's expenses.

Christ Church Pic-Nic—The members of the Sunday school of Christ church cathedral left town yesterday morning via Oak Bay for Ten-Mile point, where the annual picnic was greatly enjoyed. The party was in the charge of Rev. William Barton, priest-vicar of the cathedral.

Young People's Picnic—The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church is holding a basket picnic this evening at Fishers Point at the terminus of the Esquimalt car line. The young people of the congregation with their friends are invited to take advantage of this outing.

Dangerous Sidewalk—There are many complaints about the state of the sidewalk just below the bottom step at the southern entrance to the post office. The concrete here slopes sharply in such manner that now that the sidewalk is becoming worn smooth there is grave danger of a serious accident especially when the concrete becomes wet.

Evangelistic Addresses—Rev. Mr. Tonge, of Odessa, Wash., has been a visitor at the local headquarters of the Salvation Army for the past few days, and has delivered several interesting addresses along evangelistic lines, which have been much appreciated. Mr. Tonge is the pastor of a Presbyterian church in Odessa, and is at present on his vacation.

W. C. T. U. Meeting—An important business meeting of the local branch of the W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the mission on Store street. The W. C. T. U. will take charge of the restaurant at the coming fair, and various matters connected with the same will be discussed at the meeting. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of members.

Exchanging Reminiscences—The local officers of the Salvation Army have been enjoying a brief visit from old friends in the shape of Brigadier and Mrs. Smeeton, formerly of headquarters in Vancouver, but now of Chicago. As both Staff Capt. Hayes and Capt. Knudson formerly belonged to the Vancouver corps themselves, a very pleasant time was spent in exchanging reminiscences.

Express Companies' Limits—Various interests will be well represented, it is expected, at the meeting of the railway freights committee of the board of trade this afternoon, when the question of the definition of the city delivery limits of express companies will be threshed out. This will be the last opportunity citizens will have to make suggestions in this connection before the matter is taken up before the board of railway commissioners.

Premier at Vancouver—Premier McBride left for Vancouver yesterday to attend the convention in that city last night. He will return today to be present at the Duncan convention this afternoon. Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general, who reached Vancouver yesterday on his return from an extensive trip abroad, was also in attendance at the Vancouver convention, and will reach Victoria today, probably in company with the premier.

Building Permits—Building permits were issued yesterday by the building inspector to W. Oliphant for two dwellings to be erected on Cook street to cost $1,950 each; to J. R. A. Todd, dwelling on Vancouver street, to cost $1,800; to A. B. Robertson, dwelling on Hilda street, $2,500; to Messrs. Brackman & Ker, alterations to premises on Broad street, $250; to Wilson Noble, dwelling on Simcoe street, $1,500; to Chung Lung, additions to premises on Fisguard street, $1,000.

Tax Notices Will Soon Issue—In a few days the annual general tax notices will be sent out by the city treasurer, in all about 12,000 notices. These taxes are payable on or before October 31, up to which date the usual one-sixth of the total amount due will be remitted. The notices will this year also call for the payment of the general tax on sewers, which has hitherto been payable by the middle of the year. This change has been made in order that one date of payment for both sewer and general taxes may be fixed, thus reducing to a large extent the amount of clerical work in the treasurer's office.

St. James' Garden Fete—The annual garden fete of St. James' church will be held today from 3 to 10 p. m. in Sea View Gardens on Dallas road. The Woman's Guild, president, Mrs. Bamfylde Daniell, and vice-president, Mrs. Gerald Stracey, will be responsible for the musical arrangements, while there will also be a string band of harps, mandolins, violins, etc., under the conductorship of Mr. Plowright, Mr. Tompson acting as accompanist. There will also be refreshments and games. Among the ladies and gentlemen assisting will be Mrs. Garret Smith, Miss L. Haggerty, Mrs. H. Haines, the Misses Haines, Mr. Petch and others.

Noted Speaker Coming—A meeting of the Local Council of Women was held yesterday morning at the residence of Lady Crease to make arrangements for the forthcoming visit of Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, formerly general corresponding secretary of the National Council, and now government agent for government annuities. The chair was taken by Miss Crease, president of the presidential board. Mrs. Cummings is to address a meeting here on the subject of government annuities on Tuesday, September 5, on her arrival from Japan. It is not known yet which hall the council will select. Mrs. Cummings is a bright and forcible speaker, and as the subject of government annuities is a very important one to all wage earners it is expected that she will have a large audience. While in Victoria she will also address the Woman's Auxiliary to Missions.

Boy Scouts' Regatta—The Boy Scout regatta which was to have taken place this month at Oak Bay will be held next month. Owing to the fact that a large number of the boys are still away on their vacations it was decided that the regatta would be more representative after the city schools open next week.

Six Months' Hard Labor—A man named John George, was arrested on Sunday afternoon because he had persisted in following two girls about the streets, insulting them at various times. After hearing the story of the girls, Acting Magistrate Prior decided that the accused was not the right kind of a citizen to be at large, and accordingly sentenced him to six months at hard labor.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Dominion Voters' Lists—Yesterday the returning officer Mr. A. M. Bannerman and Mr. Harvey Combe, the registrar of voters, held a conference relative to the mistakes which occur in the voters' lists as received from Ottawa. It was decided that those mistakes, which are in the spelling of names, should be rectified as speedily as possible and that information to this effect should be sent to Ottawa so that the name of no one who is entitled to vote in the Victoria constituency shall be found invalid on election day.

Gets Light Sentence—Edward C. Smith, claiming to come from Portland, appeared in the police court yesterday morning, charged with obtaining goods from a local shoe store, under false pretenses. In answer he said that he had obtained the shoes, but pleaded not guilty to the charge of fraud. After hearing the evidence, however, acting Magistrate Prior was convinced that the accused had done all and more than he was charged with doing. He took into consideration, however, that Smith was a young man and strong and well able to earn a livelihood without acting as he had, and in consideration of this, the magistrate imposed the moderately light fine of $25 or one month in jail.

Sons of England—The regular monthly meeting of Pride of Island lodge of the Sons of England B. S. was held in the A. O. F. hall on Broad street last night and was well attended. The business of the Red Rose degree was put through as quickly as possible and the meeting dismissed. After the closing of the Red Rose degree a White Rose degree meeting was held, the second degree in the Sons of England. Eleven members of the Red Rose took the second degree and great was the fun and merriment caused by the novices riding the goat. The members who joined were Bros. J. Hill, J. Wylie, G. Kent, H. Clarke, A. Clarke, E. Logan, W. Saddler, J. Smith, H. Davey, J. Pincher, H. Bollard. The meeting closed at 11.30 p. m. and the new members left with the determination to see that more joined the second degree of Sons of England B. S.

Testing Asphalt—One of the busiest spots about the city hall these days is the laboratory, which has been recently installed for the purpose of testing the asphalt, which is now being laid by the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company. The laboratory, which is under the charge of Mr. Best, a thoroughly competent chemist, has been fitted up with all modern appliances, and daily many samples of the asphalt taken from the company's plant at the foot of Chatham street are analysed. The samples have all been found to be fully up to the standard, and of a quality superior to any hitherto laid in the city. Exhaustive tests of the binder being used in paving work are also made. Additional apparatus will be added to the laboratory just as soon as it can be secured. In other cities tests are also made of various articles used such as coal, gas, etc., and it is probable that in the near future the work of the laboratory here will be extended in that direction.

ATTENDED IRRIGATION CONVENTION AT CALGARY

Hon. W. R. Ross Tells of Important Resolution Proposed by Mr. F. J. Fulton

The resolution offered by Mr. F. J. Fulton, K.C., of Kamloops, bespeaking the desireability of making irrigation work in British Columbia distinct from that in Alberta and Saskatchewan was one of the most interesting features of the fifth annual convention on irrigation at Calgary recently from which the Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, has just returned. Mr. Ross, who officially represented the government was unanimously elected president of the convention for the ensuing year.

The results of the fifth convention will be far reaching and important although for the most part the work of the delegates was restricted to problems already well known. The resolution offered by Mr. Fulton was allowed to remain over until next year when it will be dealt with in detail. It is pointed out that the irrigation work in this province and the problems it presents are very much different from the work and the problems in Alberta and Saskatchewan. If the resolution carries British Columbia will have a convention of its own annually.

British Columbia was well represented at the recent convention with fifteen delegates out of seventy-five from all points. It was decided to hold the convention next year at Kelowna.

THOUGHT IT WAS MURDER

Johnson Street Resident Scents Crime and Starts Police on Fruitless Errand

It was a wildly excited individual who cycled in his shirt sleeves to the police headquarters on Monday evening and conveyed to the officer on duty the information that a murder had been committed in a residence on Johnson street. Without waiting to allow his tale to soak into the mind of the policeman the informant started away on his machine. A hurry-up call was sent out; the patrol wagon with four plain clothes men and two constables started for the scene of the supposed murder and superior officers from the chief down were notified of the crime. The latter arrived at the police station ready to take up all clues offering, but were met by the advance guard which returned to the headquarters vowing vengeance upon the man who started all the trouble.

When the detectives arrived at the residence whence there had been heard cries and sounds indicating a death struggle it was only to find that husband and wife had had a little difference during which damage to clothing was the only serious occurrence. It was a neighbor, who, startled by the sounds which appeared to him to indicate nothing short of murder, had become excited and called out the blue coats. The latter, as is generally the case in such circumstances, received no welcome from the ruffled pair.

HERO OF THE PORCUPINE

How Mr. Leo Sulman Died Through Efforts to Save His Friends

A letter received from England by Mr. F. W. Bentley, 1336 Stanley avenue, tells of the horrors at the recent disastrous Porcupine fires. The subject of the letter is Mr. Leo Sulman, whose home was in England, but who was employed in one of the mines at Porcupine at the time of the fire. He has since died as the result of terrible injuries, which he received while endeavoring successfully to save the lives of a few of his friends. His act was one of true heroism.

The letter says that the fires were terrific, and came on in an amazingly sudden manner. It burned fiercely on three sides of the town, and had completely passed away within ten minutes of its commencement owing to the great speed with which it was travelling. After the blaze had subsided, the ground smouldered, and the smoke was intense for hours. During the fire the young hero and a few friends were safely ensconsed in a pool of water, but later went to the aid of the chief of the mine, who with his wife, mother-in-law and two babies were struggling desperately for their lives. Laying them out on the ground they covered them with blankets, and the rescuing party lay over them for three hours to keep the intense heat from their bodies. While in the act of carrying water which he intended pouring over the chief and his party, the young hero was overcome by the dense smoke, and fell unconscious, from which state he never recovered. All others of the party were saved from a horrible death, largely due to Mr. Sulman's efforts.

The late Mr. Sulman was a particular friend of Mr. Bentley, and he feels deeply his loss.

MR. H. S. CLEMENTS' VIEWS ON RECIPROCITY

Conservative Candidate in Comox-Atlin Says Sir Wilfrid Would Sacrifice Great Resources of B. C.

"Whether the election in Comox-Atlin is deferred or not, I shall fight it out to a finish," said H. S. Clements, Conservative candidate for the constituency of Comox-Atlin, while in Nanaimo.

"I see no reason for the reciprocity pact, it is an absolute farce from the Canadian standpoint." he continued. "The Republican party in the United States is pledged to lower the tariff on Canadian goods, and if Canada is content to wait until the next general election on the other side of the border, tariff revision in favor of the Canadian producer will come without necessitating the giving away of any of our natural resources. What we need most is reciprocity within the Empire, for the proposed pact will succeed only in diverting trade north and south, instead of east and west.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his government have never, to my knowledge, mentioned reciprocity as a possibility prior to 1908. In fact, Sir Wilfrid has often stated in the house that reciprocity with the United States was a thing of the past. When the Conservatives members did vote to give a substantial reduction on farm implements coming into the Northwest from the States, it was Sir Wilfrid who refused to let his party pass the measure. The reciprocity agreement is simply a cloak covering the naval policy, which is unpopular in Quebec, and other measures viewed broadcast with disfavor, measures that really are the main ones in this campaign and which would bring about the defeat of the government were they fully understood.

"It would seem that Sir Wilfrid is wittingly sacrificing the fruit, fishing and lumbering interests, particularly of British Columbia, for no other purpose than to appease the Northwest farmers for his previous failure to grant them a lower tariff on incoming agricultural machinery. I believe that the fishing industry in Canadian waters should be preserved for Canadian fishermen The United States must provide fish as a cheap food for their people and they must come to us for their supply, regardless of any reciprocity pact. No one will assert that the British Columbia fruit grower can hope to enter into competition in the American market with the Washington, Oregon and California producers.

"On the question of Asiatic labor in Canada, I believe strictly in its suppression, and I condemn strongly, nor am I alone in this, the action of the Laurier government for the conditions existing in this province after 1907, when the prime minister promised that not more than ten Japanese residents would be admitted monthly under the new Canadian-Japanese arrangement. Statistics show that from January to October, following the new treaty, the Japanese government settled 8,125 of their people in this country via the ports of Vancouver and Victoria."

OBITUARY NOTICES

Bridges—Mr. Charles Bridges, one of the most familiar figures in the Comox district of Vancouver Island, suddenly passed away last Friday evening at his residence, Sandwick, Comox Valley. The funeral which was one of the most impressive ever held on the upper part of the Island, took place on Monday under the auspices of the Hiram Lodge, No. 14, A.F.& A.M., of which the deceased was a most prominent member. Many Masons attended the funeral from Cumberland. Floral tributes were sent from almost every part of the Island, testifying to the great esteem in which the deceased was held. The funeral services were conducted by the Reverends Willemar and Laffere, of Cumberland. Mr. J. B. Holmes conducted the service for the Order at the graveside. The pallbearers, all members of the Shriners, were Brothers J. R. Johnston, Courtenay; J. N. McLeod, L. A. Mounce, J. T. E. Palmer, John Matthews, Cumberland; Thos. Hudson, Union Bay. The late Mr. Bridges leaves a widow and five children to mourn his death.

Farrell—The funeral of the late Mrs. Hannah Farrell took place from the Hanna chapel yesterday morning at 8.45 o'clock and fifteen minutes later from the Roman Catholic cathedral, where an impressive service was conducted by the Rev. Father Leterme. There were very many friends of the late lady present and the floral tributes were very numerous. The pallbearers were Messrs. Marcus G. Phipps, Michael Dawdall, L. J. Quagliotti and J. S. Smith. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

Ferguson—The death occurred at the family residence, 624 Avalon road, James Bay, yesterday afternoon of Mrs. K. H. Ferguson, aged 26 years. Deceased lady had been a resident of this city but for a short time. She leaves a husband and one daughter to mourn her death. She was a native of St. Thomas, Ontario. The remains have been removed to the Hanna chapel, pending funeral arrangements. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

Borde—Mrs. Antoinette Borde, a pioneer lady resident of this city since the gold rush days of 1858, widow of the late Mr. Jean Borde, who died in 1861, passed away at the family residence, 637 Johns street, yesterday morning at the ripe old age of 89 years and two months. Madame Borde leaves to mourn her death, five children, Madame E. Wattelet of this city, Madame M. Bouchart, San Jose, Cal.; Madame L. Lallier, of Paris; and Hippolyte and Auguste Borde, also of Victoria, beside a host of friends. Many grandchildren also survive the deceased. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son, Mr. A. Borde, 2818 Rock Bay avenue, at 8.30 o'clock on Thursday morning, and fifteen minutes later from the Roman Catholic cathedral, where mass will be conducted. The late Mrs. Borde was a native of Lyons, France. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

ALD. STEVENS FOR VANCOUVER

ed there could only be one throne, one flag and one Empire.

Premier McBride said that it had been a pleasure to him to witness the businesslike way in which the nomination proceedings were carried out, and remarked that this was a convention which in every respect compared favorably with previous conventions and augured well for the impending election.

Mr. McBride then referred to the activities prevailing in other Conservative camps. He said that in Comox-Atlin, Mr. Clements had enterd into the fight with all his characteristic vigor, and by reports received he would be one of the solid seven which the Conservative party would send to Ottawa.

Vancouver was the nerve centre of Conservatism. Vancouver had well earned the name and was well known as the pronounced fortress of Canadian Conservatism. In the coming election, said Mr. McBride, she would make a new record for herself as a Tory stronghold. Vancouver was fortunate indeed in having such a good candidate to carry the banner of the party in Alderman Stevens. He would, he had no doubt, make a name for himself at Ottawa, and he would therefore bespeak for him the hearty support not only of the Conservative workers, but also the general electorate. Mr. Cowan, he added, had nobly filled the office.

Proceeding to delve into the political situation, the premier said that he was at one with Alderman Stevens in the view that never since 1896 could they press on the work for the Conservative policy as in the present campaign.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's proposition, said the premier, would mean that in a few years' time the ties of the British empire would be severed or Canada would lose its identity in union with the state to the south. "Should reciprocity be brought about it would mean the dismemberment of the British empire and fusion with the United States," he declared. He said that he would be emphatic in charging the Liberals with bringing about the political condition at the present time existing.

"In the first place," he said, "when the Canadians had no markets and sought them south of the line, the Americans turned a deaf ear to them. Perhaps in those days the Americans could not see much to attract them in his majesty's realm on the northern part of the continent." Then amid approving cheers he exclaimed: "The American cousins are satisfied that they will come out at the big end of the stick, or they would not touch the pact with a ten-foot pole."

Sir Wilfrid's Change of View.

Continuing his address against reciprocity the premier referred to Sir Wilfrid speaking of Canada standing alone. He said that the federal government leader stated: "We have made our own markets and stand on our own footing." But despite these declarations, the reciprocity pact had been forced upon the people of Canada and now within four brief weeks the people of Canada had been asked to pronounce upon the subject.

That reciprocity would mean the dislocation of trade and that Canadian railways would suffer while the American railroads would reap the advantage was another statement made by Mr. McBride, who continued to tear into shreds the reciprocity proposition as put forward by Laurier, Fielding and company. He said that in America today there was not a keener railroad magnate than Mr. J. J. Hill. "In supporting reciprocity you can bet that Mr. Hill is thinking of number one first," he remarked. It would mean an increase in his international lines and he could put new life in the commercial centres in which he operates. St. Paul and Spokane were quiet and Seattle—"was dead," some one volunteered. "Dead," was Mr. McBride's endorsation. And now they wanted to tap Vancouver, Victoria, Calgary, Regina and other Canadian cities.

Discoveries made had shown to the men to the south the vast potentialities of this great dominion.

HERE AND THERE

A Woman's Settlement.

The plan of the Colonial intelligence league to form a settlement on Vancouver island for English women is one well worthy of careful consideration.

A person who takes a trip through the island does not need to be very observant to see that in the great majority of cases the women who live on the farms have little knowledge and less experience of the life upon which they have entered. It is the exception to see a home along the line of railway that shows evidence of woman's taste and industry. Bare walls and uncultivated spaces around the house are signs of the dreary lives that the inmates live.

It is very hard for a man who undertakes to make a living from the land to snatch even the few minutes needed to plant and cultivate vines and flowers around the house. Unless his wife loves a beautiful home and knows how to make it so, his efforts are not likely to be successful. The wealthy man can, indeed, make his place as beautiful as he desires, though even in his case the taste of a woman, wife or sister, is a great help. It may be said that if clearing land and planting and cultivating a farm or an orchard, or raising stock keeps a husband busy the care of the house and children occupy fully a woman's time. But it has been proved again and again that women who know how to do it, can with very small means make a home very beautiful, inside and out. A few books and a pretty garden, a musical instrument of some kind, the ability to care for poultry, a love of pets are things which serve to make a home attractive to husband and children. The story of deserted farms and overcrowded cities, which comes to us from the older provinces, need not be repeated in British Columbia's valleys. Every available foot of land must be cultivated if our province is to be as prosperous as nature meant it to be.

In Ontario and Quebec young men and women are learning at the agricultural colleges how to make farms profitable and homes beautiful and comfortable. It will not be many years before in the University of British Columbia similar opportunities will be offered our own young people.

In the meantime this woman's settlement would be doing valuable educational work. The heads of the departments would be women who have been trained in Swanley Gardens and other agricultural schools how to make the most of small holdings. The pupils from the Old Country will be girls brought up in the villages and rural districts of England, who love the country and have determined to spend their lives in its pursuits. Both teachers and pupils recognize that in a hundred ways, life in this country is different from that in Great Britain. If Miss Davis' plan is carried out they will learn in the settlement how to adapt themselves to their new environment. They will bring to their task knowledge and training. They will go out to make the most valuable assistants to women of means who are making their homes in the beauty spots of this province. Eventually, in the nature of things, many of them will make homes of their own. It is not hard to see that in every way, refined and educated women who have a true sense of the dignity of labor will be the most valuable of immigrants. There can be no doubt that a settlement of such women would be a great advantage in any vicinity. Is it worth while making a little sacrifice to place such a colony on Vancouver island? This is the question which all those who see the need for capable, educated women workers both in city and country should ask themselves. $10,000 is a large sum, but not larger than could be raised in a very short time if it were shown that the settlement was a good investment. Can Vancouver island afford to let the plan of the Colonial Intelligence league fall through?

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

Paris Doctor Finds Serum that Cures Foot and Mouth Disease in Cattle

PARIS, Aug. 22.—Dr. Doyen has extended his activity into the veterinary field, and if his latest discovery is really confirmed, he has conferred an inestimable boon on farmers the world over by discovering a sure and rapid cure for the foot-and-mouth disease in cattle. The news is published today, and the correspondent of the Petit Parisien at Prouville describes the encouraging results obtained on a number of farms in the valley of the Auge. The disease is at present rampant in the entire valley, which is a great cattle-raising district. The ravages have been such that not only was the meat supply diminishing, but there was already talk of a rise in the price of milk. Dr. Doyen conceived the idea of trying injections with certain serums or liquids prepared by himself, which he calls "liquides phagogenes." The first experiments were made with the assistance of Dr. Herve, veterinary and sanitary inspector of Trouville, and M. Theuriet, the superintendent of Mr. Vanderbilt's farms. The serum or liquid was injected under the skin of a certain number of heifers that had the disease very badly. On the following day—that is, fifteen hours after the first injection—Dr. Droyen believed that he could positively state that the malady had been checked. By that time, in fact, the lesions of the mouth had dried up, as they might have done a week later, and the ulcers round the hoofs were beginning to heal. The result was so striking that the animals, which had no longer been able to walk, were already able to stand up. Four or five days later the ulcers disappeared altogether.

The result of the experiments showed that the animals recovered rapidly from the disease. Their general health improved, the morbid symptoms ceased. The animals no longer foamed at the mouth, but began to graze again. The leanness rapidly vanished, and the recovery was assured. During the past few days, adds the correspondent, the efficaciousness of the treatment was confirmed by numerous other experiments. More than two hundred head of cattle, including bulls, cows, heifers, calves, and even pigs, were treated with success. The operation, it seems, is very simple. Two injections are made, with an interval of a day or two between the first and second, and the cost is only a tirfle. The treatment has also the advantage of being a preventative, and healthy animals, by means of inoculation, can be saved from catching the disease.

MANHATTAN, Nev., Aug. 22.—A vendetta trailing Charles Garilla across the Atlantic ocean and the United States and into the desert is believed to have caused his murder here today. Garilla was cut down with an axe as he emerged from his house. His assailant, whose identity was not discovered, escaped. Garilla and other members of his family held government positions in Italy. It is said that some of them incurred the enmity of the Mafia, and that Garilla was killed for that reason.

Games Today.

Portland at Victoria.
Seattle at Vancouver.
Tacoma at Spokane.

It was a narrow escape the lads from the Rose City had yesterday. All through the race they were neck and neck. In the fourth stanza the Islanders got a lead of one and it took until the sixth for the "Nick" Williams squad to win back that run. On the stretch, or, to be exact, in the ninth, the Pippins grabbed another, as it happened the winning score and, what made it specially hard for the fans to digest, was the fact that it came across on Grindle's third passed ball.

Still it surely looked as though the visitors were going to be made to fight it out in a prolonged struggle when the same Grindle came up, fire in his eye, and slugged a two sacker. But, though a passed ball gave him a base and Brennan drew four bad ones, there was nothing doing. Tonneson tightened up like a clam and, while many of the fans claim that it wasn't this but rather the breaking of a summer storm, with its attendant thunder and lightning, that was responsible, it is a fact that three men strove valnly to find the pill.

A Fast Game

As a ball game it was a splendid sample. Williams, who was on the mound for the locals, pitched strong and steady ball. The Pippins were kept pretty tame. Their total of nine hits were secured in dribbles and besides the Islanders, though without several of their regulars, played in good heady style. There was a fast double in the first inning that cut Stovall off at the plate and, in the third, when the visitors were pluming themselves on at least one more run Grindle pulled of that favorite performance of his—the short throw to midfield, tempting the man on third the sharp return in time to catch him at the pan. It worked beautifully, and of course excited the fans. Then there was Goodman's ready handling of a hot shot from Coltrin's stick, a clout that was tabbed for a two bagger or seemed to be from the grandstand. But "Bill" was there and the speedy Portland short was mowed down at the first bag. And still another feature was the double in the seventh which saved a situation that was rapidly becoming dangerous to say nothing of the speed evinced in the ninth when Million killed Pettigrew who was completing the circuit. It was a close decision but "Ump" Starkell was right there and saw it all, so what he said should have gone without argument.

Pippins in Form

On their part the Pippins were what their pet name would indicate. There, however, is one man, who is a stranger to Victorians, not having been with them on their last visit, who is particularly so. He is Coltrin, the short. Watch him work! He covers the ground grandly and his wing to first is as true as a rifle bullet. He figured in a pretty double in the eighth. But Portland didn't have as much chance to perform. Tonneson, another of their galaxy of star southpaws, was on the rubber. He was found hard to negotiate. The few hits that came were scattered. It must be admitted that the two runs which were taken by the Islanders in the second were largely due to good luck for Stovall's error is not one that occurs every day. He allowed "Clem's" drive to go right through him. Yard crossed the pan, and then Grindle's single brought home Clementson, who had been able to get to the third sack. In the fourth it was Mundorff's poor throw to Casey that was responsible. It came in mighty handy for the locals for "Clem" and Grindle had just landed a couple of those safeties which were mighty scarce articles all afternoon.

BEAVERS BEAT GIANTS; BAUMGARTEN QUITS

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—Vancouver broke the tie in the sixth inning today and shoved four runs over, winning, 6 to 2. Cates was effective at all times. Jakey Baumgarten had one of the worst days in his career and was assailed on all sides. He finally requested President Brown to wire President Lindsay to send another umpire.

"I'm through," announced Jakey. Score:

CHAMPS TAKE THE TIGERS INTO CAMP

SPOKANE, Aug. 22.—Schwenck pitched a masterly game and was practically Invincible in the pinches. Zimmerman batted in two of Spokane's runs in the first inning, scored himself in that inning and again in the seventh. Baker was invincible after the first and in this session he might have got away unscathed but for Coleman's error. Annis, reppling Baker as emergency hitter in the ninth, drove home Tacoma's only run. Score:

Notes.

Ladies' day today.

Furchner, who has been on the bench since the last visit of the Islanders with a sore arm, is scheduled to decorate the mound today. Furchner has pitched some good games for the Islanders. Bloomfield is due for the Pippins

Pettigrew, who straightened the ball out over the left field fence yesterday, makes his first appearance here with the Pippins. He was purchased after George Ort was sold to Seattle.

Utility Catcher Harris, who was catching Tonneson in the warm-up period, said to the southpaw before the game, "Tonney, you've got the best curves in the world on the ball today." Harris was right. Thirteen of the fighting Islanders whiffed.

Vancouver is playing fine ball, especially the infield, and their pitchers have been going good. Seattle has also been hitting a fast pace. Frank Clancy, who passed up the horse races for baseball last week, said that while Seattle might not win the pennant, the present club was the best that had ever represented the city and was playing in grand form. "President Lindsay," said Mr. Clancy, "has done the right thing in putting his foot down hard on rowdy ball. The fans do not want kicking and wrangling; they want baseball. This business of trying to 'show up' the umpire is disgusting. On the average, the caller is right, and it is all wrong for the players and crowd to make his life miserable. His job is hard enough as it is without adding to it."

Ralph Kreitz, the red-headed catcher who broke into the game several years ago with Seattle, has made a good impression on Manager Duffy, of the Chicago White Sox. He is working with a new pitcher named Horlik, who was originally unearthed by Jack Tighe, according to my recollections. "Kreitz has shown everything in his appearances with the White Sox that I saw in him when I looked him over in the Three-Eye League," says Manager Duffy, "and this is a big point in his favor. When a youngster starts to cut his eye teeth in the big leagues, as a rule, he is nervous and ill at ease. He seldom does himself justice in his debut in faster company. Kreitz, however, is an exception. He caught a great game against the Athletics at Philadelphia. He had two chances to peg to the bases and his throws were perfect. His throw to second base to catch Collins stealing was as straight as it well could be, and was sufficiently ahead of the fleet second baseman to have scored the putout. Kreitz' throw to third base was timely and accurate and resulted in the retirement of the base runner. While Kreitz made one battery error, that was due to being crossed in the signals. It takes a new catcher some time to become accustomed to his pitchers and to work in harmony with new conditions and strange surroundings. Kreitz seems to have a good batting eye and that will help him."

The deep secret is out at last. We never knew the exact age of Pug Bennett, but the St. Louis Sporting News tips it off in reply to a query when it says that he was born in 1876. Younger than the anxious ones figured, eh?

Miss Officer, who has been the guest of Mrs. M. H. Rathom during the past week, returned to All Hallowes, Yale, yesterday.

CRICKET ELEVENS PLAYING EVENLY

Victoria and Vancouver Teams Continue to Win—Others Going Strong — Exciting Finish Predicted

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Division A—Saanich defeated Navy-Esquimalt by 11 runs. Seattle defeated the Garrison by an innings and 17 runs.

Division B—Victoria C. C. defeated Albion C. C. by 10 wickets. Vancouver C. C. defeated Burrard C. C. by 140 runs.

TODAY'S GAMES

Garrison vs. Navy-Esquimalt at Work Point barracks. Saanich vs. Seattle at canteen. Victoria vs. Vancouver at Jubilee hospital grounds. Strawberry Vale vs. Burrard at Beacon Hill.

It now looks as though there might possibly be a tie in division A competition. If Seattle defeats Saanich today and Navy-Esquimalt defeats the Garrison there will be three teams with 4 points each which will necessitate division A playing both Thursday and Friday to decide who shall play in the final on Saturday. Seattle is going strong, so is Saanich and the competition is now in a very exciting stage. In division B it seems probable that today's winner in the Vancouver-Victoria fixture at the Jubilee hospital grounds will play in the finals on Saturday.

Considerable trouble is being experienced because some of the teams neglect to leave their score books at the tournament headquarters in room 207 Times building, where Secretary Coates is every evening. Owing to this neglect the scores in the Seattle-Garrison and the Vancouver-Burrard matches are not available. Scorers are requested to leave the books every evening so that the secretary can report on the standing of the teams.

Victoria C. C. vs. Albion C. C.

Victoria C. C. won their second tournament fixture yesterday at the Jubilee hospital grounds by 10 wickets. Albion C. C. showing up badly at the batting end. On a perfect wicket they lost 20 wickets for two more runs than Victoria's total, 193, or an average of less than 9 per man. In their first venture they scored 73. F. Galliher and L. York sharing the bowling honors. In the follow on they did better, thanks to Idiens, Trimen and Pegler, who scored 38, 20 and 41 respectively. Three runs were required to win by ten wickets and off Pegler's lobs these were secured by H. A. Goward.

Of Victoria's innings, J. H. Gillespie's contribution of 101 not out was the main feature and without it the score sheet would have looked pretty bad. It was a great performance marred by an easy chance, c. and b. to Mahon, when he had made 19, and two difficult chances behind the wicket between 90 and 100. Despite these blemishes Heb deserves and received the heartiest congratulations of the followers of the V. C. C. He received assistance from Marshall, W. York, L. York and Coates. F. Leaver, however, was his best partner. Leaver's 37 came in exceedingly useful and was a really creditable performance and came at a time when runs were badly needed. The innings was faultless and included 6 fours, a three and a two. Gillespie's innings contained 13 fours, 2 threes and six twos.

The fielding by both teams was good, particularly that of the Albion C. C. Their work in the field was, at all times, good and occasionally brilliant. Victoria's fielding was also good; two catches by Coates, fielding at point, in the Albion's first innings, deserving special mention, while Heb Gillespie caught a skier off his brother's bowling and Galliher two beautiful long field drives on the pavilion boundary. H. A. Goward made a brilliant throw which cost Trimen his wicket in the second.

Today Victoria meets Vancouver C. C. on the Jubilee hospital grounds and every endeavor has been made to place a strong eleven on the field. From the result of this fixture the participant as far as division B is concerned in Saturday's final game will be pretty well ascertained.

BASEBALL STAR IS SIGNED BY LOCALS

"Ducky" Holmes, Who Has Continental Reputation as Playing Manager, Takes Charge of Locals

William "Ducky" Holmes, the baseball demon, the man who turned the Western league inside out when he jumped there, who lifted Sioux City club from the rut and who several times has lead his team to pennant honors, has been purchased by the Victoria club management and will report for duty with the Islanders on Monday next at Spokane. "Ducky" is a real acquisition. His ability is not a dream. His record speaks for itself. He has never played in anything but major or class "A" league ball. In 1909, while with Sioux City, he batted .357, finishing in fourth place. Since then he has been handling the stick with equal consistency, his latest post being with the Mobile, Ala., club. It is the confident belief of the officials that he will shake up the dry bones of the cellar champions and lay the foundations for a winning 1912 team.

Secretary McConnell yesterday issued the following statement: "The Victoria club management are securing the services of 'Ducky' Holmes at a big price but believe that the outlay will be fully warranted."

Another newcomer to Victoria will be Ed. Erickson, the big fellow of the Vancouver Beavers' pitching staff. For the past four years he has been one of the mainstays of the mainland organization and it is thought that he will fill a long felt want here. Last year he won sixteen out of thirty-three games in which he occupied the mound. While he hasn't been doing as well this season he still is a twirler of the highest class and will be a pillar of strength. It is stated that he is coming to Victoria as the local club's absolute property, having been purchased at a considerable outlay.

SPORT JOTTINGS

According to my recollection this will be the first time that the Pacific Northwest has been represented at the national tennis tournament in Newport. B. E. Schwengers, who has won many touraments against our best players, as a representative of Victoria, will play at Newport this fall. He is now the champion of Canada and his advent on the Eastern courts will be watched with keen interest.—Porteus Baxter, in Seattle P.-I.

Here are some of the reforms to be instituted by the New York State boxing commission; No decisions by referees; gloves to weigh four ounces each, or eight ounces per man; referees to hand gloves to contestants; no twisting of gloves to push back the hair padding from the knuckles; the anti-betting law to be posted conspicuously in all clubs and enforced to the letter by club officials, a flagrant violation to forfeit a license; no club official to be allowed to act as a second or adviser; no intoxicating liquors to be sold; referees and timekeepers to be approved by the commission; back-number pugilists to be placed on an eligible list; boxers who fail to live up to agreements with clubs to be suspended; 5 per cent. of the seating capacity to be set aside for complimentary tickets; every person admitted to club arenas to present some form of ticket; physical examinations to be made by doctors approved by the commission; each club to be responsible for the counting of tickets and receipts.

Unless something unexpected happens Knockout Brown and Matt Wells will meet in a ten-round bout before a New York club August 30. Although Wells has shaded several good men since coming to this country, following his victory over Freddie Welch, the former English lightweight champion, he has not been hoisted on the pedestal he would occupy had he not been a ham-sandwich fighter in New York six or seven months before he trimmed Welsh by a hair-line decision on the other side of the pond. I saw a letter last night from Tad, of the New York Evening Journal, to Hi Baggerly, sporting editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, in which Tad said that Brown would whip Wolgast if they ever came together in a finish fight. Tad is a good judge of the ring artists, and Brown must be close to the top. His meeting with Wells will show either that he is entitled to meet the champion for the big honor or that Wells is a toptnotcher. It is almost a sure shot that the bout will be a hot one.

The Detroit club is getting ready to begin work on a new $300,000 grandstand, which will have a seating capacity of 23,000. Recently President Navin acquired a large piece of property adjacent to the park, and the city council closed an alley in order to make the land join on to the present grounds. All this sounds strange in view of the stories about Detroit being dropped from the American League circuit.

It would be an odd twist if Catcher Bert Whaling, of Seattle, wore a Portland uniform next season. Cleveland purchased the release of Wean Gregg from Spokane for $4,000 two years ago and let him polish up with the Portland club the following year. Whaling is a grand young catcher and an especially good thrower, but if Cleveland's old catchers should be going strong next spring they might find a place for him in the Portland Coast League club. Cleveland is said to be financially interested in the New Orleans franchise now, which may interfere with the friendly relations between Cleveland and Portland.

How we Protect Owners

When investigating motor cars think of this: Almost any car runs smoothly while new, but the racking of motor operation, and road-vibration, soon tends to disarrange the delicate motor adjustments in cars of ordinary design. Then ask yourself: What will this car be like after running a few months?

"Everitt" Design

protects owners by safety devices, self-oiling devices, and extra quality of material at every point subject to extra strain. The "Everitt" motor is made strain-proof and vibration-proof by being built in, on and around a solid one-piece casting that is perfectly rigid. All the delicate adjustments and moving parts have bearings immovably seated in this unvarying main unit. Therefore adjustments remain correct and the motor runs smoothly, always.

More: "Tudhope Service after you buy" is an asset worth a considerable share of the cost of your "Everitt." This is protection to the owner.

LOCAL LIBERAL HAS HIS DOUBTS

Mr. Robert Dinsdale, After Trip Through Canada, Is Sceptical of Chances for the Reciprocity Agreement

Mr. Robert Dinsdale, of the contracting firm of Messrs. Dinsdale and Malcolm, has just returned from a lengthy tour, during which he visited the motherland at the period of the Coronation festivities. He had a very pleasant time and returns with some new ideas respecting the trend of political events in England.

In conversation with a Colonist representative yesterday Mr. Dinsdale said that there was much political unrest in the Old Country, the feeling being that the Asquith administration was too strongly tainted with Socialism. Very great interest was being taken in the outcome of the electoral struggle in this country.

Mr. Dinsdale on returning home through Canada kept his ears open for opinions on the reciprocity pact and what he heard convinced him that it is extremely doubtful if it will carry. This is how he put it to the Colonist yesterday:

"During my return trip across Canada I found public opinion to be much against the proposed reciprocity agreement, the reasons expressed for it being that Canada should preserve its own raw resources and develop its own territory free from the exploitation of the wealthy trusts of the United States.

"It was argued that the immense combinations of capital would speedily swamp Canadian enterprises.

"It is very doubtful if the agreement will carry."

It may be added that Mr. Dinsdale is a member of the central executive of the Liberal association of Victoria and heretofore an aggressive worker in the ranks of the supporters of the Laurier government.

ROOKERY GUARDS THEMSELVES RAIDERS

Japanese Gendarmes Sent to Guard Robben Bank Kill a Thousand Seals for Private Profit

Placed to guard the seal rookeries of Robben bank in the Okhotsch sea, a Japanese preserve since the seal island was occupied during the war with Russia, the Japanese rookery guard proved recreant to its trust, and secretly killed a thousand seals and shipped the valuable pelts to accomplices in Tokyo and Yokohama as "salted ducks." Robben bank is one of the rookeries in which Canada is to share by virtue of the recently-made sealing treaty signed by Great Britain, the United States, Russia and Japan, Canada receiving 20 per cent. of the number of seals killed, to commence from April next. Japan maintained a guard of three gendarmes and six others on the island, while a cruiser patrolled the nearby seas to see that poachers did not land boats to raid.

The Chuo, a Tokyo newspaper, has brought to light the illegal sealing by the guards sent to protect the rookery. The islet, which the Japanese have renamed Azarashi, lies off northern Saghalien, and the guards who were sent there in May last are visited monthly by a small steamer, which lands supplies.

Soon after the guards were landed, it seems, Matsunami, the head gendarme, brought forward the idea that they kill seals for their own profit, he pointing out that each skin was worth from $30 to $35. The eight others fell in with his plan, and they killed 1,000 seals, which were salted and shipped in casks which were labeled "salted ducks." These casks were sent to friends by the supply steamer and sold, the profits being forwarded to the recreant guards, via Saghalien. Matsunami when he went to collect the proceeds of the spoils presented the Japanese officials with 50 skins, which he said were taken from animals which died, and he was liberal with his spending money with a result that suspicion was aroused, and when the officials questioned the other guards, some dissatisfied with the amount received, told of the killing. The nine were all arrested.

The total number of skins on the islet did not exceed 6,000.

GREAT EXPANSION FOR JAPANESE NAVY

Big Increase of Warships to Be Made by Japanese Admiralty Before Panama Canal Is Opened

News was brought by the Canada Maru that the Jiji and Yorodzu, two prominent Tokyo newspapers, announce that the Japanese government has decided to spend $200,000,000 next year to build seven Dreadnoughts, four battleship cruisers, and a number of smaller craft. The Yorodzu states that naval officials say that the new ships will be hurried to be ready for service before the Panama canal opens in 1915. The Jiji says that as over $120,000,000 has been provided for expenditure on the navy in the next four years the addition will mean a total expenditure of over $300,000,000.

AMUSEMENTS

Majestic Theatre—"The writing on the Blotter" heads the list of features on the new bill. It's a story of unusual interest, showing how justice works out its own ends in its own peculiar and frequently unexpected ways. "His Best Girl After All," a film that gives a sort of sermon or warning to men not to leave their wives for the society of other women. If ever one was vigorously punished in reality as this one was in his dream it is quite likely he would desist from such attentions. "A Visit to Nassau Bahama," a travelog; it gives good illustrations of the scenery on the Bahama Islands and the people who live there. "The Country Lovers," a Biograph drama. "Bertie's Reformation," a lively comedy played with spirit and appreciation. It tells a story of a young man who is dazzled by the lure of the city and how he is outwitted by his father. It is a good comedy well played, and the story is so clear there can be no misunderstanding it.

Crystal Theatre—We have been asking you to watch this space for an announcement of something that was going to happen. Well it has happened. For a long time we have been trying to get licensed service which consists of such makes as Edison, Essavay, Kalum, Lubin, Millier, Eclipse, Pathe, Vitagraph, the very best in the picture business. Till now it could not be had at any price, but at last we have secured this service and commencing Friday four reels of first run licensed films will be shown in this theatre at each change of programme Monday, Wednesday and Friday. We can now absolutely guarantee you the best of shows in the most comfortable, best ventilated and lighted theatre in Victoria. The programme for Wednesday and Thursday is as follows: "The Hyphen," drama; "Duty," scenic; "The Slave's Sacrifice," drama; "The Province of Dauphine," drama; "Flowers of Nice" and "Death of Loffont and Pola"; "She Wanted to Marry a Hero," drama; "The Cigars His Wife Bought," comedy. Keep your eyes on this space for further announcements. We are after your patronage.

Ax-Grinding

There is nothing "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. Some dealers will even go so far as to tell you they have something better.

That dealer has an axe to grind.

You can't stop his grinding, but you can prevent him grinding it at your expense.

There is one sure, swift way to do it.

Go where you can get what you ask for.

You won't be obliged to do this very often, as fortunately the majority of druggists are honest and conscientious.

Newbro's Herpicide has been so long and favorably known as the original dandruff germ destroyer that no one should be deceived.

When you need a hair remedy, you don't want one which merely promises to kill the dandruff germ and prevent the hair from falling.

You want one that will do it.

Herpicide does it.

The hair becomes soft and lustrous. There is life, snap and beauty where formerly the hair was dead, dull and brittle.

Newbro's Herpicide is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications of this wonderful prophylactic may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send ten cents in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

B. C. LAWS FOR ALASKA LANDS

New York Congressman Would Apply British Columbia's Methods to Areas of Far North.

Firm in the belief that British Columbia methods in dealing with the development of public lands in the disposition of timber, the settlement of farming lands and the retention of areas for reforestation, are suitable for Alaska and furnish a solution of the present unsatisfactory conditions prevailing in that section, Congressman William Sulzer, of New York, who has just completed an exhaustive examination into methods in use in this province, will soon introduce a bill in congress to provide for leasing laws for Alaska lands.

Mr. Sulzer recently arrived at Ketchikan and left for Sulzer, the scene of his mining operations on the Prince of Wales Island. The New York congressman has been studying Canadian land laws. His idea is to apply the important features of the leasing system in use in this province to the forest reservations of Alaska and if the results prove satisfactory he will extend them to the forest reserves of the States.

A recent despatch to the Post-Intelligencer, of Seattle, from a staff correspondent who met Mr. Sulzer and party at Ketchikan, says:

Admires Canadian Law.

"Mr. Sulzer's first interest in a bill of this sort was due to his desire to see development of the North, and not with a view to extending such laws to the reserve lands within the States. When it was pointed out to him that the same classification of lands would be possible under such a leasing law as is now in force in British Columbia, and that under its operation agricultural lands now within forest reserves would go back into the public domain for settlement and development, he said he would take up and study that phase of the question, and the possibilities for further legislation along that line.

"Congressman Sulzer said he had long been impressed with the successful operation of the so-called timber limit system in British Columbia, and the opportunity for disposition of timber, the settlement of farming lands, and the retention of timbered areas for reforestation under laws similar to those through which the Canadian province of British Columbia has so well safeguarded public interests in the disposition of its public lands.

"Over there timber areas are leased at so much annual rental per acre, and the stumpage fee is paid to the government when the timber is cut. The lands remain government lands, and when reforestation is impractical, they can be sold as logged-off land.

Fee Remains in Sovereign.

"No timber lands pass to private ownership. On the other hand, no agricultural lands can be leased as timber lands; they are opened to preemptors as soon as classification can be made, and classification is the next immediate step following survey.

Such a step Mr. Sulzer believes, would eliminate arbitrary reserve boundaries with all the handicap to mining and other pursuits these boundaries now impose, and would be a step in the direction of development of idle areas which promise at present to remain perpetual wildernesses, and would develop them for the benefit of the whole people."

INDICATIONS

Are that close-in PANDORA AVENUE property will go as high in price as Douglas Street. Ten blocks from the City Hall on Douglas Street, property has sold at $500 per front foot, though on Pandora Avenue four blocks from Douglas, we have improved property for $250 per front foot. The latter street is to have far greater improvements in the near future than any other street in the city. Taking into consideration also that it will be the main thoroughfare running East and West, and that it already drains the most heavily settled section of the city, investors are safe in expecting an even heavier advance in values during the coming fall move than that which has made Pandora the feature of the Realty Market this summer.

NO CLOSE SEASON

Salmon Fishing on Fraser River Can Be Continued, as Requested by Canners and Fishermen.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 22.—The federal government has suspended the close season for sockeye salmon fishing on the Fraser river. Notice to this effect was received this morning by Chief Fisheries Inspector Cunningham of New Westminster in a telegram from Ottawa. The telegraphic advice of the cancellation of the close season states that this action has been taken owing to the unprecedented light run of sockeye on the Fraser river this year.

But for the order of suspension it would have been illegal to take sockeye in the Fraser river or Gulf of Georgia waters from midnight of August 24 to September 15. This close period has always been allowed in order to give the salmon opportunity to reach the spawning grounds on the upper reaches of the river.

Several weeks ago the Fraser river fishermen started an agitation for the abolition of the close season this year. A petition to the minister of marine and fisheries was prepared and forwarded to Ottawa. It was supported by many salmon canners and by various boards of trade on the coast. It was represented to the federal government that for years Canada has been doing all the hatching and the Americans most of the catching of salmon. It is stated by canners that this year 85 per cent. of the Fraser sockeye have been caught by Americans in traps and in purse seines operated by large motor boats.

If you know Victoria, you will at once see that this is the very centre of Victoria's best residential district—surrounded by the best homes in the city.

Victoria will always be a residential city, and with the yearly increasing immigration of monied people from the East, the middle West, and in fact all over the world to this city, there will always be an ever increasing demand for choice residential property. This places well located, residential lots in the front rank of profitable investments.

Richmond Park, being inside the city limits, and being also in line for all modern improvements, besides having the unique advantage of being practically surrounded by the best homes in the city, is therefore placed in the front position of these investment opportunities.

Ruskin said: "I would have our dwelling houses built to last and built to be lovely, as rich and full of pleasantness as may be, within and without."

In the designing of residences no matter how large or how small, we aim to carry out Ruskin's dictum as closely as possible. The result is that many of the houses planned and built under our supervision have received the highest praise from the owners and artistic people generally.

MARAMA IN FROM AUCKLAND

Canadian-Australian Liner Inaugurates New Service Which Will Give a Call at New Zealand Port

MARQUIS OF LINLITHGOW AMONG THE PASSENGERS

Hardships of Castaways in the South Seas—New Zealand Welcomes Service to Canada

Inaugurating the new service via New Zealand of the Canadian-Australian line the R. M. S. Marama, Capt. Morrisby, arrived at the outer wharf at noon yesterday, eighteen days from Auckland and 22 days from Sydney, with 203 passengers, 94 in the first class, 69 second class and 40 steerage. The passengers who debarked here included the Marquis and Marchioness of Linlithgow, J. B. Clarkson, A. Baldwin, Miss O. Kennedy, Mrs. and Miss Side, Mrs. and Miss Craig, Miss R. Case, Mrs. Osborne and Miss D. Angell. John Victor Alexander Hope, the second Marquis of Linlithgow, created in 1902, is the descendent of an illustrious British family, his ancestor John de Hope coming from France in 1537 in the train of Magdalene de Valois, Queen of James V. He owns 42,600 acres.

The steamer experienced smooth weather with moderate seas from Sydney to Auckland and fine weather then to her arrival. The cargo included the usual shipments of frozen mutton, hides, hardwood, pineapples, etc.

When the Marama reached Auckland on her initial call at the New Zealand port the liner was met by a representative of the tourist department of the Dominion, who placed before the travelers the various scenic and tourist attractions of New Zealand. The Auckland Star said the service inaugurated with the sailing of the Marama should "prove in every way beneficial to the Dominion in general and to Auckland in particular. The Marama and the other steamers which are to carry our mails are fine up-to-date vessels, and the time to be occupied in transit between Auckland and London is only 28 days. If this average can be maintained, we will have a service at least as good as the old San Francisco service, over whose disappearance we have so often lamented; and there will be this added advantage that the new connection will bring us into close commercial relations with the sister colony, which promises to be one of the wealthiest and most prosperous members of our great imperial family. Even if the trade connection with Canada should fail to realise the expectations that in certain quarters seemed to be pitched rather high, we need hardly point out the New Zealand will profit largely and permanently through the establishment of more rapid mail communication with England and the rest of the world. We have emphasized so often the importance of rapid mail service to the country that there is no need to labor that point now. The whole Dominion should be congratulated on this accession to our facilities for transit and transport."

New Zealand's Mails.

The same paper recalling the changes in the mail service from New Zealand said:

"Until recently our Pacific mails were carried to San Francisco, but on the Vancouver service being arranged the "Frisco connection was given to Wellington. It is interesting at this juncture to recall some of the "Old-timers" which carried our mails. Away back in "the sixties," by the old Panama service, we recognized the "short cut" Home, via America. Then came the Australasian Steam Navigation company's boat, the City of Melbourne, Wonga Wonga, and City of Adelaide. These were superseded by the big "side-wheelers," belonging to an American company—the Nevada, Dakota and Nebraska, which invariably entered the Waitemata a week or more behind schedule time, and afforded our engineers employment day and night to fix them up for the run back to the Golden Gate. Next came the Zealandia and Australia, owned conjointly by the Spreckles line and the Union company. The Mariposa and Alameda then made their appearance, and the Union company's boats Monowai and Moana also engaged in the service. When the Union company was forced to retire owing to the application of the American shipping laws to Honolulu, the Spreckles line was left to carry on the service, which from a monthly became a three-weekly service, with the advent of the Sierra, Sonoma and Ventura. A few years back Spreckles abandoned the service owing to the small subsidy granted by New Zealand, and the refusal of the United States to grant a subsidy. Last Saturday saw the last, so far as this port is concerned, of the "Frisco-Island service, which was arranged after the Spreckles boats ceased to run, and which for mail purposes could not be considered satisfactory. The new and important service about to be inaugurated will link up not only the Mother Country, but also the two Dominions which form integral parts of our vast empire."

South Sea Wrecks.

Refusing to leave the wrecked schooner Bell Flower, when she struck the New Zealand coast, Capt. Doweil went down with his vessel, according to advices brought from New Zealand by the steamer Marama. When the Bell Flower struck on July 30th, Capt. Dowell ordered the crew to take to the boats, and said he would remain by the ship. The wreck broke up soon afterward.

Survivors of the derelict schooner Whangaroa arrived at Sydney shortly before the Marama left after being four days adrift without food or water in open boats. The derelict was abandoned after the crew worked for days waist deep in water, working at the pumps, the lumber cargo only keeping the wreck afloat. Finally the crew huddled on the upper deck of the cabin, clinging on by ropes while the sea swept over them. Finally the deck smashed, and the men took to the boats to which they lashed themselves and finally reached Lord Howe island.

Advices were brought by the Marama that the mayor of Adelaide, South Australia, refused to accord a civic welcome to the Sheffield Choir, which visited Victoria some months ago, stating it was the rule not to officially receive money makers. He referred to the Sheffield Choir as "a lot of pot-hunters." This roused Dr. Harriss, who said the travels of the choir had cost him $50,000, and he said the cost of the trip to the members of the choir would be from $500 to $1,000, each member receiving bare traveling and hotel expenses. They resented the statement that they were "professionals."

MASSACRES ON SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

Three Men from French Vessel Meet a Violent Death—Reign of Teror in New Hebrides

The joint administration of the British and French in the New Hebrides is not working well, and a reign of terror prevails in the islands, according to a report made by the Bishop of Melanesia, Bishop Wilson. Natives are being outraged, he stated, according to advices received by the Marama. A French trading vessel was attacked at Malekula in the new Hebrides, and three of the crew who had landed after being riddled with shot were hacked to pieces with knives. Their bodies were tied to poles and carried up and down the beach for exhibition. Meanwhile the French trader barricaded himself behind the bulwarks of his vessel, fighting off attacks until a mission vessel arrived. Not until then did the Frenchman learn the fate his three men. The bodies of the men were carried into the bush and eaten. The French warship Kersaint was sent from Vila on a punitive expedition. From the Solomons news was brought that two missionaries, Revs. Blencowe and C. F. Bury, and some native teachers were driven from the mission at Santa Cruz, having many privations in their flight through the bush. Two of the natives were drowned during the flight.

Bishop Wilson said: "Outrages and breaches of the law are constantly being reported to the autnorities with no satisfaction being given. I reported a case of gross cruelty to a native who had been four years in Queensland and had married a young native woman. The woman was enticed on board a trading-vessel, and not permitted to return. Her husband who tried to swim off for her, was fired at in the water, his hands tied behind his back, struck repeatedly in the face while helpless, and finally thrown into the hold and fastened to the mast. He was rescued in the end by one of the native teachers, who bought him and his wife from their captives about a fortnight later for £4 10s. I had this story from the native's own lips in the presence of several witnesses, and reported it to the authorities. I likewise reported various other cases of native women being stolen from their husbands, and enticed on board the trading ships. What was the result? In no single case have I heard of these women being returned. No one has suffered for these things, and the natives have had no redress. Recently this year I reported to the British Commissioner an attempt to kidnap a boy named Douglas at the village of Pentecost, at which two of our mission ladies are living. During the night these ladies were roused by natives who told them that a white man and three natives had tried to capture this boy Douglas in his own home. They seized him by the waist, ankles and wrists, and tried to drag him out. His cries brought in a neighbor, who fired at the party and drove them off, leaving a gun and three oars behind them. The natives are afraid to make reprisals on their white assailants, knowing very well that, while nothing falls on the white man when he commits these offences, they would quickly find that they could not return in kind with impunity."

EMPRESS CREW ON CANADA MARU

Survivors of Wrecked C. P. R. Liner Arrive Here and State That Salvage Work is Progressing Satisfactorily

Fourteen members of the crew of the wrecked C. P. R. liner Empress of China, who spent eleven days on board the liner after she struck on Mera reef arrived by the steamer Canada Maru of the Osaka Shosen kaisha yesterday afternoon. The Japanese steamer brought a full complement of saloon passengers, and landed 14 Europeans and 44 Chinese here. The cargo totalled 4,000 tons including 1000 tons of tea and 900 bales of raw silk worth over half a million dollars. For Victoria the steamer had 165 tons of general freight.

The fourteen of the crew of the Empress of China, who arrived by the Canada Maru, included Carpenter Oberkron, two stewardesses and nine seamen and others. They stated that although the Empress had threaded her way in the fog through a number of reefs the hull was not as badly damaged as anticipated as the reef was of hardpan, rather than rock. The cargo of the steamer did not suffer greatly, a thousand tons of flour which were landed and taken to Yokohama suffering very slight damage. With good weather continuing the salvors were hopeful of getting the liner into deep water. Two salvage vessels were at work

A Yokohama paper says: "If the weather remains fairly good there is every reason to believe that the Empress of China will be floated without very much damage. There is a mistaken impression that she ran on a lot of pinnacle rocks which have pierced her hull, and to attempt to get her off would drag out the bottom of the ship. On good authority we learn that samples of the rock have been procured by the divers and they are either sandstone or hard clay formation. Her hull being of hard steel would be difficult to pierce and examinations, so far as they have been made, show that the rivets on the plates of the bilge keel have been forced out for a distance of 45 feet, and it is at this point the ship is leaking though not beyond the capacity of the steam pumps in keeping her cross bulkheads dry."

Strong Currents to Blame

The Box of Curios of Yokohama says that owing to weather conditions and the unusually strong currents existing after the typhoon exonerates Capt. Archibald from blame, and this is verified by the evidence of Captains Swain and Valentine, two old and experienced navigators whose long service on the coast not only qualifies them to speak of the force and irregularity of the cross currents after a typhoon but, fortunately, their experience on the very day the accident happened.

Captain Valentine, in command of the P. & O. S. S. Orientil came up from Kobe during the typhoon and arrived off the land in the vicinity of the point where the Empress went ashore a few hours previously before, he sighted land and verified his position. Imagine his surprise when he found he was 27 miles off his course, and what the results might have been if he had experienced the dense fog the Empress had, would not be difficult to predict. The French Mail boat on her trip from Kobe had the same experience as the Oriental —27 miles off her course.

"The oldest navigator on the coast is Captain Richard Swain, of the N. Y. K., who arrived the day after the stranding, and when he heard of it and the conditions under which it happened, stated that he was not at all surprised, for during over 20 years' experience on the coast he had frequently, after a typhoon, found himself 30 miles off his course. He states that the cross currents are not only irregular in their movements, never twice being the same, but they differ in force and direction. Considering the fact that Captain Archibald had got his bearings the day before and knowing just what his ship would do under all conditions, it is good evidence of the density of the fog and his cautiousness as a navigator that had caused him to slow down, while he and his first officer were on the bridge and the lookouts at their stations, straining every nerve to get a glimpse of some headland that would give him his bearings and thus permit him to continue his journey safely.

"But the after effects of the typhoon —the fog and currents were more than man could solve, and with his drifting ship in their grasp they bore him to the shore. It was one of those unavoidable accidents that no one is to blame for, but we are more than pleased for the captain's sake that he was but one of three able navigators who had very similar experiences on that morning, only the fog lifting in time two had the good fortune to escape. It is the strongest evidence of the actual conditions existing and exonerates him from all blame."

FLOODS ON YANGTSZE

Village Entirely Submerged and No Trace of Inhabitants—Great Loss in Chinese Inundations

Further details of inundations of the banks of the Yangtse Kiang were brought by the Canada Maru. It is stated that the swelling of the river is daily becoming worse, and that Hankow and Wuchang are subjected to fearful suffering. Specially are conditions in Wuchang serious, so much as that a part of the place has been under water a month already. The populace there has to fix planks across the beams to find a dry place for living in the houses. It continues that the exodus of a large number of Chinese families is the daily feature there.

But the district where the floods have wrought devastation of the most ghastly character is Kaoize Hsien, below Hankow. The whole place has been submerged, so that not one thing which is on land is visible.

A river steamer, called the Houho, plying between Hankow and Ichang, had struck mud banks visible before the inundation. Her liberation having taken a considerable time, and with floods on either hand, passengers were almost starved to death before the voyage was resumed.

Business Lots For Business Men at FORT GEORGE

The big money in real estate is made by those who buy business lots at the beginning of a city.

Knowing what you do now, if you had the opportunity of buying at prices prevailing a few years ago, you would not hesitate to buy on Hastings or Granville streets, Vancouver; Main street or Portage avenue, Winnipeg; Jasper avenue, Edmonton; or Eighth avenue, Calgary. You would not be buying at Shaughnessy Heights, Tuxedo Park or any of the outlying additions, no matter how high-sounding the name or how many boulevards or parks they might have, notwithstanding the fact that lots in these additions are first-class investments—but—BUSINESS LOTS FOR PROFIT.

Most people cannot afford to buy business lots in the streets mentioned above at present prices. It is possible, however, to get in at the starting point of what will be undoubtedly a place of as much importance. In making an investment in real estate the necessary thing to do is to pick out the most promising of the prospective cities and examine into their possibilities.

What are their natural advantages?

After you have looked them all over and considered the good and bad points, then you will find out that—

Fort George has every natural advantage possessed by all the others combined.

One of the prospective cities will be a railroad centre.

Another has coal mines.

This one has timber lands.

Another will talk of the fine climate.

That one is the centre of an agricultural district.

Fort William and Port Arthur will talk to you about their water transportation.

Stewart will talk of her mines.

Some other places may have a great waterpower.

Fort George has them ALL.

Don't overlook this point. It means that Fort George has a combination of all the resources possessed by all the other cities of Western Canada (except that she is not an ocean port).

Fort George is the geographical and strategic commercial centre of British Columbia. British Columbia is Canada's largest and richest province.

You should know all about Fort George and British Columbia. Let us send you map plans and official information free. Send your name or call today. You can get in at the beginning if you hurry.

GULF ISLANDS TO BE MADE RESORTS

St. James Bought by British Capitalists for Conversion into Popular Summer Colony—Pier Island Also Sold

Having interested British capitalists in provincial real estate to the extent of about $300,000 Mr. J. E. Smart has returned after a sojourn in England of over three months. Most of his time was spent in London. He opened a branch office there in order that he might get in touch with financiers for the purpose of informing them of the attractiveness of the Pacific northwest from the standpoint of the investor. He had no difficulty, the result of his activities being the sale to English syndicates of both St. James and Pier islands with the assurance that the present owners will proceed with their development forthwith.

The former property, which comprises 1400 acres with 9 miles of waterfront and 2 1-2 miles of beautiful sandy beach, was disposed of by Mr. Smart in behalf of the St. James Club Ltd. of this city. That organization, it will be remembered, purchased from Mr. Irving H. Wheatcroft, who for several years made that charming Gulf island the headquarters for his well known stable of thoroughbreds. The present proprietors paid $225,000 and it is their intention to carry out, practically in toto, the plans laid down by the St. James Club Ltd., except that, instead of a private, it will be made a public summer resort.

Representatives of the new owners, Mr. Smart says, may be expected here in October. They will inspect the island and make definite arrangements for the erection, somewhere on the east shore, of a splendid hotel, modern in every respect. Cottages will be constructed and all other improvements necessary for the conversion of the island into a model summer home capable of the accommodation of hundreds will be proceeded with. The idea is to make it entirely self-sustaining. The land will be cultivated to such a degree that it will be possible for all sojourners to obtain fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, fresh eggs and butter every day if they so desire. Thus the summer resident, coming there possibly from the fevered rush of the large cities, will be able to forget that there is an outside world, that there are other interests, and give himself or herself up to the enjoyment of the joys of bathing, fishing and shooting—all of which forms of sport are immediately available in their finest forms. Work on the proposed buildings, Mr. Smart asserts, will be started as soon as it has been definitely agreed as to how the summer colony is to be laid out, the intention being that this, the future Catalina island of the northwest, shall be ready for 1912.

Pier Island Subdivision

Pier island, the other property sold to English capitalists by Mr. Smart, is to be subdivided and put on the market in about a month. Within the past few years it has passed through a number of hands. It was as Mr. J. S. Harvey's agent that Mr. Smart interested the Old Country syndicate which now is in possession. Having a total area of 250 acres, with 4 miles of waterfront, it adapts itself splendidly to the purpose in mind. The central portion will be reserved for general use—a public park-like domain—while the land fronting on the beach will be divided into two, three, four and five acres strips and offered those who wish to find summer homes. As each holding will include one of the picturesque little bays for which Pier island is famous, and as the owners will be provided with every convenience, among other improvements two roads circling the island being planned, it is thought that this also will prove exceedingly popular to many who are looking for suitable out-of-town residences.

In addition to these two deals Mr. Smart reports that he was able to negotiate the transfer of Parker island, which is situated just west of Plumpers Pass and comprises a total area of 407 acres. In this, too, British capital is interested. The former owner was Dr. Stanier, of this city. Nothing definite has been arranged as to the exploitation of the property.

Although most of the time of the Victorian was given up to [illegible] he witnessed the Coronation pageant and thoroughly enjoyed the spectacle. He adds his word to that of all those [illegible] dents of this city who journeyed to the Old Country to see the ceremonies with which the crowning of their Majesties was marked [illegible] something that would be hard to forget, a striking demonstration of the power and the oneness of the many widely separated sections of the British Empire.

WOMAN'S HARD LOT

Refused a Home by Son-in-Law and Daughter and Deported by U. S. Authorities

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—Among the passengers who sailed from here today for Liverpool on the steamer Moyon was a mother-in-law who had "been turned down" by her son-in-law, and was being deported by the national government because she was likely to become a public charge. The mother-in-law is an Englishwoman, and her son-in-law is a resident of this city.

When the woman arrived here last Monday to make her home with her daughter, the son-in-law protested to the immigration authorities against her being landed. In his formal protest, he declares the mother-in-law, who had visited him before, to be a perpetual trouble-maker, objectionable in many ways and that it was impossible for him to live under the same roof with her. His wife joined him in the formal objection to her mother.

The mother-in-law, being well along in years, and the son-in-law refusing to receive her, there was nothing left for the immigration officials to do but deport her.

OFFICER FIRED UPON

Trouble Over Pocatello's Water Supply Leads to Violence and Arrest of Company's Men

POCATELLO, Idaho, Aug. 22.—Defiance of a court order and an attempt to shoot the officer commanded to serve it brought to a climax today the feeling that has been running high throughout the summer over alleged highhanded methods of the Pocatello water company against consumers. The net results of the storming of the company's reservoir are the arrests of Superintendent Winter and six other employees, the enforcement of an injunction restraining the water company from further interference with the city's water supply, and the proposed temporary possession by the city government of the water company's system.

On attempting to serve the court's injunction at the reservoir today, Deputy Sheriff James' force was fired upon by Superintendent Winter. This so incensed the citizens that they organized a posse and marched 150 strong to the company's plant. There they arrested the defenders of the reservoir, who offered but feeble resistance.

Today's conflict followed the issuance of a restraining order by Judge Budge, at his summer home on Bear lake, last Friday, when it was represented that the city was practically without fire protection and that the water company had arbitrarily shut off the city's supply.

The city in praying for the injunction against the company set forth that Superintendent Winter was mentally irresponsible and urged Judge Budge to name a receiver. This the court refused to do. The company is seeking permission from the city to install a meter system.

Woman's Pocket

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Paris has suddenly thought of the right place for a woman's pocket. Women have tried pockets in their stockings and—not to carry the matter too intimately—to their waist, and their wrist, holding the reticule, but never to their hats. Now Paris has produced a hat that will be a pocket as well as a hat. Beneath the show there may be a box with powder puff and other appurtenances of the toilet. There is no reason why the feminine hat, properly stuffed, should not contain the feminine luggage. At least the ordinary hat could hold the nightgear, and the box of chocolates and the purse and handkerchief.

H. B. Company's Building

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22.—Commissioner Burbidge, of Hudson's Bay company, said today that work would be resumed on the Calgary building within the next three weeks. The work is now being held up by architects who have the revising of certain plans. The plans will be returned complete within 21 days and work resumed at once. The architects are Burk, Howard and White of Toronto. He says work will be rushed and the building should be ready for business before Christmas 1912.

EDMONDS, Aug. 22.—Patrick Keenan, the penitentiary guard who shot Chas. Legg under the mistaken impression that he was an escaped convict, was sent up for trial before a higher court by Magistrate Walker. Keenan will be allowed out on bail.

PRESS COMMENTS

The Past of Reciprocity.

There is enough truth in the statement that the Conservatives and their greatest leader were always in favor of reciprocity to make it a handy plea for one class of government orators. There is more than enough falsehood in the claim to make it useless as an appeal to intelligent and practical people. Reciprocity was last an issue in Canada in 1891, Sir John A. Macdonald's final contest, or as he himself declared in the closing words of his campaign address:

"My last effort for the unity of the Empire and the preservation of our commercial and political freedom."

Speaking of the reciprocity platform of the party then led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir John said in that last address of his:

"It would, in my opinion, inevitably result in the annexation of this Dominion to the United States. The advocates of unrestricted reciprocity on this side of the line deny that it would have such an effect, though its friends in the United States urge, as the chief reason for adoption, that unrestricted reciprocity would be the first step in the direction of political union. * * *

"I commend these issues to your determination, and to the judgment of the whole people of Canada with an unclouded confidence that you will proclaim to the world your resolve to show yourselves not unworthy of the proud distinction that you enjoy—of being numbered among the most dutiful and loyal subjects of our beloved queen. As for myself, my course is clear. A British subject I was born—a British subject I will die. With my utmost effort, with my latest breath, will I oppose this veiled treason, which attempts, by sordid means and mercenary proffers, to lure our people from their allegiance."

It will be admitted that the writer of these words was not in agreement with Sir Wilfrid's reciprocity programme of that day. But it is alleged that he favored some form of limited reciprocity. In fact, the party had left for years on the statute book, a vague offer of reciprocal exchange and was constantly accused by opponents of refusing to give effect to it when opportunity arrived. Conservatives do not deny that the party has changed its attitude toward reciprocity. The Liberal admits that it also has changed.

Forty years ago both parties in Canada desired reciprocity. Possibly both would have accepted the unrestricted article. Twenty years ago the official Liberal leaders, but not their whole party, had advocated commercial union, and were promoting unrestricted reciprocity. They and their programme were condemned by the Conservatives in the language quoted above, and the policy was denounced in equally strong language by Mr. Blake and other loyal Liberal revolters. Conservatives had not yet abandoned all idea of reciprocity, though their fiscal policy led in the opposite direction.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

How Americans View It

The real desire on the part of American politicians for reciprocity is disclosed in the following speech of Champ Clarke, speaker of the house of congress, delivered when the measure first came:

I am for it (reciprocity) because I hope to see the day when the American flag will float over every square foot of the British North American possessions clear to the north pole. They are people of our blood. They speak our language. Their institutions are much like ours. They are trained in the difficult art of self-government. My judgment is that if the treaty of 1854 had never been abrogated the chances of a consolidation of these two countries would have been much greater than they are now.

I do not have any doubt whatever that the day is not far distant when Great Britain will joyfully see all of her North American possessions become a part of this republic. That is the way things are tending now.

Having said that much, I want to say another thing. I do not confine my support of reciprocity bills to this one. I am in favor of reciprocity treaties with the Central and South American republics including Mexico. The quicker we get them the better off we will be. Of course, as between the two, if we had to have reciprocity with Canada and not with those countries to the south, or with those countries to the south and not with Canada, I would take reciprocity with Canada.

Similar views have been expressed by scores of other American politicians, while the press of the United States is practically a unit in expressing similar views. And still Sir Wilfrid Laurier is pleading with the people of Canada to endorse reciprocity. Will they do so?

Against Which?

Not since 1891 has the Conservative party gone into a contest with greater confidence as to the result than is felt in regard to the outcome of the present election. This is but right for they have a leader in whom they have every confidence and whose policy is one that should appeal to every true Canadian. That policy is briefly set forth as follows:

1. A thorough reorganization of the methods by which public expenditure is expended. The increase in what is known as ordinary controllable expenditure from $21,500,000 in 1896 to nearly $74,000,000 in 1911 is proof of extravagance beyond any possible defence.

2. Granting of the natural resources to the prairie provinces.

3. Construction of the Hudson Bay railway and its operation by an independent commission.

4. Control and operation by the state of terminal elevators.

5. Necessary encouragement for establishing and carrying on the chilled meat industry.

6. Establishment of a permanent tariff commission.

7. The granting of substantial assistance towards the improvement of public highways.

9. Extension of civil service reform.

10. Granting of liberal assistance to provinces for the purpose of supplementing and extending the work of agricultural education and for improvement of agriculture.

And lastly we pledge ourselves to a course of policy and administration which will maintain independent and unimpaired control of our own affairs by the parliament of Canada, a policy, which while affording no just cause for complaint to any foreign nation, will find its highest ideal in the autonomous development of Canada as a nation within the British empire.

Now against what plank of that platform can any elector of Canada vote and in doing so say that his duty to his country compels his action?—Nelson Daily Times.

Forcible Annexation—If Necessary.

The Telegram has received numerous letters expressing surprise and indignation that any Canadian should have uttered the statements made by E. W. Thompson in the Boston Transcript when he spoke of the rejection of reciprocity as ordering "our Tories to slap Uncle Sam's face," and of these Tories as not being "precisely fools enough to risk the turmoil which a justly (observe the "justly") embittered United States press would speedily create," and when he went on to say that "these things are not said in Canada by the ministerialists (they go abroad to say them) because they dislike to set our jingoes howling that these things amount to an attempt to bulldoze. They are true all the same."

Mr. E. W. Thompson not only wrote in this strain, but he is the journalistic intimate of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. His pen has been used by Sir Wilfrid Laurier for many years to interpret to the people of the United States what he considers the becoming and appropriate Canadian sentiment, and to dictate through a foreign medium to Canadians what he considers should be the due and proper deference to be paid by them to foreign opinion.

Make no mistake about it Sir Wilfrid Laurier does not look upon a consideration such as that expressed as merely calculated to irritate Canadians. He looks upon it as something fitted to awe and submit them to submission.

The big stick of newspaper indignation in the United States is not without reality. Listen to the Syracuse Herald, an influential newspaper in an influential city in New York state:

"If Canada should turn down that reciprocity treaty now, after congress has boiled and perspired through an extra hot summer to pass it, we have an idea that there would be some pretty stirring speeches made in the next congress favoring the forcible annexation of our northern neighbor."

This newspaper evidently regards, and rightly regards, the reciprocity pact as peaceful annexation, and suggests forcible annexation as the alternative of its refusal by Canada. In its view, both or either would be justified by the end in view, the same "benevolent assimilation" of the wealth of Canada, which the United States is so proud to have accomplished in connection with the Philippines.—Winnipeg Telegram.

Of Vast Imperial Import

The suggestion may not commend itself to untravelled English readers, but we are none the less of opinion, that the Canadian crisis is one of more far-reaching and momentous import for the Empire as a whole than the constitutional crisis at home. We believe this because, if the home parliament takes a false step with regard to the constitution, we believe their mistake would not go for long uncorrected. If Canada blunders in the matter of her relations with a power outside the Empire, that false step might well prove irrevocable. Measures involving the business relations of nations occupying one continent may not easily be revoked. Their effects are too complex and far-reaching. The United States are eager for the pact. Their leaders say it will greatly serve their interests by preventing all-British commercial union. The decision rests with the people of British North America.—The London, England, Standard of Empire.

"I COULD NOT LIVE"

Without "Fruit-A-Tives"

Writes the Treasurer of the Caledonia Township

Fenagavale, Ont., Jan. 29th, 1910

For thirty-five years (and I am now a man of over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation.

No matter what remedy or physician I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure.

About two years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding "Fruit-a-tives" and I decided to give this fruit medicine a trial. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for "Fruit-a-tives," I am satisfied that I could not live." JAMES PROUDFOOT

The liver controls the bowels by giving up enough bile to make the bowels move. The only possible way to cure constipation is to make the liver active and healthy and thus store up sufficient bile to move the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" acts directly on the liver—ensures an abundance of bile—and causes the bowels to move regularly and naturally. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Colonial Intelligence League

Sir:—The letter in yesterday's issue, under the above heading, is one that demands serious attention. That, apart from the praiseworthy efforts of the C. I. L., young women are coming into Victoria without any adequate provision for housing them, is a fact beyond dispute. What is to be done? Ample provision has been made for the young men in the well equipped and up to date institute shortly to be opened. It is up to the women of leisure—with money and all the comforts it can command—to see to it that their needy sisters, strangers in a strange land, shall not be less cared for than their brothers. All over the world, I believe, women are training for a career, instead of marrying. Many reasons are accountable for this. In England the women are in a majority of about 5 to 1. About three and a half millions of women are compelled to earn their own livelihood. This means that bachelor homes must be provided. The dreadful conditions of unemployment, the present conflict between capital and labor is said by some to be the outcome of this surplus of womenkind. They will work for less than men will, at least a woman's work is never considered of as great a monetary value as a man's, however ably and often more ably performed. So it is said that one cause of the unemployment, with all its attendant miseries, of men, is that women are doing men's work. There is another reason: The greed of men, the great combines that have sprung up all over the country and the drinking habits, that to my mind are more to blame, but even so, it is a fact that scores of our country women in England, refined, educated, noble souled women are compelled to work under conditions that are worse than slavery. What is the result? Prostitution! It is poverty that drives women to this; it is a never a life of choice. Then this is our position: here is a country, rich in everything that a good Providence can bestow—none of the overcrowding and depressing poverty that is so prevalent in the old land—wanting women of grit and education to be the mothers of a sturdy race to populate this vast dominion and we are turning them away. Am I my sister's keeper? The old self cry. When a dollar from 20,000 people would enable a home to be offered these toiling sisters, for whom the Old Country has little use and less to spare. In Montreal a "Woman's Hotel" has been opened, I believe. In Berlin a hotel to hold 300 girls, with gymnasium, reading and writing rooms, sewing room, a sick ward and handsome and airy restaurants in which no alcoholic drinks are sold, is established. That women's place is the home is an oft repeated axiom, but often those who are loudest in voicing this are the least willing or able to keep her there. In England competition and various causes have made it impossible for the majority of parents to provide for their daughters, and every profession and business calling are more than crowded. In cities full of mean streets and vile slums, under a pall of smoke through which the sun can hardly penetrate, anaemic and depressed are scores of girls existing on a mere pittance. They know nothing of the joy of living, to gain a brief respite from the sordid grind in some of the factories clubs are formed, and at intervals the funds are spent in a carouse or drinking bout. This is an exception and I am thankful to add for the sake of my countrywomen not a rule. But have we not said enough to encourage those more fortunate women, who have perhaps a little more than they can spend, to spend and be spent in a sublime effort to lift the burden of life from those whose future holds little promise of ease and happiness, unless they can be taken out of their crowded and ill paid environment. The suggestion that each public school girl should get interested in building a large and up to date Y. W. C. A. is worth considering. It would do them good in every way to lay aside a few cents weekly between now and Christmas, and get their friends also to help to provide a nucleus for a building fund such as this. But "if 't were done, 't were well if it were done quickly." There is no time to lose, while young girls are homeless.

If I can put one touch of a rosy sunset into the life of one woman, I shall feel that I have worked with God.

S. H. BROMLEY-JUBB.

Reciprocity

In the Ottawa Journal Mr. W. H. Rowley, president of the E. B. Eddy Co., says that the Taft-Fielding reciprocity agreement will:—

Delight Mr. Taft, and Delude Mr. Fielding.

Denude our forests, and
Diminish our rain fall.

Deplete our fisheries, and
Destroy our fur-bearing animals.

Drag down our loyalty,
Demoralize our politics.

Disrupt our Empire, and
Degrade our country.

Damage our export trade, and
Darken our outlook.

Daunt our bankers, and
Dishearten our manufacturers.

Daub our escutcheon, and
Debase our heritage.

Mr. Rowley said there are a few more D's applicable to and that might well be used in referring to this subject, but these he holds in reserve. He, however, added that the Taft-Fielding pact would also:—

Strip our mines and stop our furnaces,

Shut down our mills and starve our Artizans,
and will also:
Impoverish our farm lands and imperil our home market.

ARBITRATION TREATIES

Minority Recommendations Submitted to Senate by Senators Cullom, Root and Burton

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The treaties of arbitration with Great Britain and France were defended in minority recommendations filed in the senate in executive session yesterday by Senators Cullom, Root and Burton, of the senate committee on foreign relations. Mr. Burton contended that the agreement required no amendment, because, as he declared, the prerogatives of the senate were sufficiently safeguarded.

Senators Cullom and Root, making the same contention, undertook to provide against any possible mishap by suggesting a declaration in connection with the resolution of ratification, explicitly excluding from the terms of the treaty all questions "involving the maintenance of the traditional attitude of the United States concerning American questions or other purely governmental policy."

In addition, Senator Bacon suggested a modification of this amendment under the terms of which the excluded questions were specified. He named questions arising under the Monroe Doctrine and those pertaining to immigration and territorial integrity, while Senators Cullom and Root treated them as incorporated in the general language of the suggested declaration.

When the reports were submitted to the senate, the question of debating the treaties in public was raised. There was general agreement that public policy would not be violated by such a course, inasmuch as the ban of secrecy had been removed from the documents. No action on the conventions was taken, and they go over for further consideration at the regular session.
